PROCEEDINGS in the ASSEMBLY.

A MESSAGE from the GOVERNOR to the ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN,

IN the Supply Bill now before me, I expected that you would not only have thought proper to make it conformable to the Royal Decree, in the Rates and Aſſeſſments, on which the Sum given by it to His Majeſty's Uſe is, at a future Day, to be levied and raiſed, which is the immediate Object of the Bill; but that you would have taken Occaſion to comply with the Stipulations of your Agents, by inſerting in it a Clauſe to amend and alter the Supply Bills of the Years 1759 and 1760, in ſuch Manner as to make them correſpond with the ſaid Decree. But as I obſerve you have omitted to do this, I now recommend it to you. Or if, to forward the Supplies, you incline to frame a ſeparate Bill to this Purpoſe, I will chearfully concur with you in that Mode. To this I hope for a ſpeedy and explicit Anſwer.

I have herewith ordered to be laid before you a Petition, preſented to me Yeſterday, by the Receivers-General, ſhewing the abſolute Impoſſibility of their being able to comply with the ſtrict Letter of the Bill, in returning a Liſt of the Quitrents reſerved in each County and Townſhip, owing to the Changes and Diviſions made in both, ſince the Grants by which ſuch Rents were reſerved; at the ſame Time profeſſing their Readineſs and Deſire to diſcloſe and give a full and juſt Account of that Species of Property in Groſs.

As I am perſuaded it is not your Intention to ſubject any One to Penalties, for not doing Acts which are out of their Power, I recommend this Matter alſo to your Conſideration, and return you the Bill again, to give you an Opportunity of altering it in both of the above Particulars.

May 25, 1764. JOHN PENN.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

IN your verbal Meſſage, of the Nineteenth of March, and ſeveral other Meſſages, you were pleaſed to recommend it to the Houſe, to make the Supply Bill, then returned, conformable to the Decree of His Majeſty in Council, relative to the Taxation of the Proprietary located unimproved Lands and Lots, "after which you would readily paſs it into a Law."

This the Houſe have ſtrictly complied with in the preſent Bill, from an earneſt Deſire that His Majeſty's Service ſhould not be longer obſtructed; and yet your Honour has, in your Meſſage of this Day, been pleaſed to ſtart two Objections, both of them new, notwithſtanding the Parts of the Bill objected to, have been repeatedly, and long before you. And as theſe Objections do not appear to us juſtly founded, we have returned the Bill, and requeſt your Honour would give your Aſſent to the ſame without further Delay, that the important Service, for which the Supplies are intended, may not be fruſtrated from the Lateneſs of the Seaſon.

Signed, by Order of the Houſe,

May 25, 1764. ISAAC NORRIS, Speaker.

In Aſſembly, Saturday, May 26, 1764, A. M.

The Members preſent laſt Night met, purſuant to Adjournment, and the Clerk producing a Letter he had juſt received from the Speaker, the ſame was read by Order, and follows in theſe Words, viz.

To CHARLES MOORE, Eſq; Clerk of Aſſembly.

BE pleaſed to inform the Houſe, that my Attendance thro' this and the laſt Week, has proved too much for my Conſtitution; and particularly the long Sitting of Yeſterday, and the bad Night I have had, in Conſequence of it, have made it impoſſible for me to attend the Houſe Today, and when it may mend, if ever, is not in my Power to inform them; I therefore thank the Houſe for all the Civilities I have received from them, and the Repreſentatives of the Province in former Aſſemblies; and do requeſt the Houſe to chuſe another Speaker in my Stead.

Your Friend,

May 26, 1764. ISAAC NORRIS."

Upon Conſideration of the above Letter, and the Inconvenience which may ariſe to His Majeſty's Service, from any Delay of the important Buſineſs before the Houſe, the Members preſent proceeded to the Choice of another Speaker, when Benjamin Franklin, Eſq; was unanimouſly choſen Speaker, and accordingly placed in the Chair.

Eodem Die, P. M.

Ordered,

That Mr. Fox, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Rhoads, and Mr. Roſs, wait upon Iſaac Norris, Eſq; our late Speaker, with the unanimous Thanks of this Houſe, for the long and faithful Services he has rendered this Province, as Speaker of the Aſſembly; in which Station he has given a conſtant and equal Attention to the Rights and Service of the Crown, and the Privileges of the People. And alſo, with their ſincere and ardent Wiſhes for the ſpeedy Recovery of his Health, and his Return to public Buſineſs; expreſſing, at the ſame time, the extreme Concern of the Houſe, that at this important Juncture they are deprived, by his Sickneſs, of that Aſſiſtance his great Experience, Judgment and Abilities, might have afforded them.

Monday, May 28, 1764, A. M.

The Gentlemen appointed to wait on the late Speaker with the foregoing Meſſage, reported they had delivered the ſame, according to Order, and that he had been pleaſed to return the following Anſwer, viz.

I beg you, Gentlemen, to return the Houſe my ſincere Thanks for their favourable Opinion of my public Services, and their kind Wiſhes for the Recovery of my Health.

As to the firſt, I can only ſay, that I have always ſerved the Public with Integrity, and an honeſt Heart.----With regard to the latter, I find that I can chearfully ſubmit, in my advanced Years, to the Courſe of Providence, and the common Laws of human Nature; but I am ſorry that my Inability to attend the Houſe, ſhould happen under the preſent critical Circumſtances of our public Affairs.

A MESSAGE from the GOVERNOR to the ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN,

IN my laſt Meſſage I deſired you would give me a ſpeedy and explicit Anſwer, whether you would, or would not, amend the preſent Supply Bill, or frame a ſeparate one, in Compliance with the Stipulations of your Agents, ſo often mentioned and recommended to you, of which you have not taken the leaſt Notice in your Meſſage of Yeſterday. I now moſt earneſtly renew that Requeſt, it being abſolutely neceſſary to have your Anſwer to this Queſtion, before I can determine on the Supply Bill now before me.

May 26, 1764. JOHN PENN.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

IN Anſwer to your Meſſage of this Day, we beg Leave to obſerve, that in Compliance with the General's Requiſition, we have voted the Number of Men demanded for the Service of the Crown, and have prepared a Bill for their Support, ſtrictly conformable to the Stipulations entered into by the Agents of this Province; which Bill is now before you, and we again requeſt your Honour would, without Delay, give your Aſſent thereto, it being ſo immediately neceſſary for His Majeſty's Service, and the Defence of His Colonies.

As to the Amendment you require of the Acts of 1759 and 1760, we do not conceive how that Matter can "be abſolutely neceſſary" to your Determination on the Supply Bill now before you.---Thoſe Amendments have been repeatedly required of former Aſſemblies, who, after full Enquiry, were of Opinion that no Injuſtice had ever been done to the Proprietaries, in the Execution of thoſe Acts. However, ſhould your Honour hereafter make the contrary appear to the Houſe, we ſhall chearfully take the Matter propoſed under our Conſideration, and do the Proprietaries all the Juſtice that can be reaſonably deſired.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,

May 26, 1764. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, Speaker.

A MESSAGE from the GOVERNOR to the ASSEMBLY.

GENTLEMEN,

YOU muſt certainly have ſeen the Neceſſity I was under, as the Supply Bill is at preſent framed, of preſſing you to amend it, ſo as to make it conformable to the Decree of the King and Council, and your Agents Stipulations, on the Act of the Year 1759.

By a Paragraph in the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Pages of the Bill now before me, you have expreſly re-enacted and extended the ſeveral Clauſes of a Supply Bill paſſed by Mr. HAMILTON, in the Year 1760, before the above Decree was made. The Bill of the Year 1760 thus extended, has in it the very ſame Clauſes of the Bill 1759, which were diſapproved of by the above Decree. By this Means you are not content barely with refuſing to comply with the Stipulations of your Agents, but would oblige me, by aſſenting to the preſent Bill, to re-enact the ſame Matters which His Majeſty condemned in the Bill of the Year 1759, ſubjecting me to the diſagreeable Neceſſity, either of paſſing a Law in direct Violation and Contempt of the Judgment of our late Sovereign, or, by refuſing it, to ſtop the Supplies, at this Time ſo much wanted for the King's Service, and the Defence of the Province.

In order to remove this Difficulty, I return you the Bill, and earneſtly deſire you will free it from this Objection, by ſtriking out the exceptionable Clauſe; and if you will not amend the former Acts, agreeable to the abovementioned Stipulations, at leaſt let them ſtand on their own Bottom, without mentioning them on this Occaſion, after which I ſhall no longer withhold my Aſſent from it.

May 29, 1764. JOHN PENN.

A MESSAGE to the GOVERNOR from the ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

THE profeſſed Intention of your Honour's Meſſage of the 17th Inſtant being to vindicate the Character of the Proprietaries, and give a fairer State of the Diſpute between us than we had done, it would have pleaſed us, could either of thoſe Purpoſes have been executed. We apprehend your Honour has failed in both.

The long Recapitulation of what paſſed at the Council Board in 1760, and from thence to the preſent Time, anſwers no End, as we conceive, but to inſinuate that we have been contending againſt a Determination of the King in Council, while the Fact really is otherwiſe; we having made the late Bill conformable, in our Opinion, to every Article of that Determination. And the Diſpute between us relates merely to the Meaning of one of thoſe Articles, which we underſtand to intend an equal Taxation of the Proprietary Lands with thoſe of the People, and which your Honour will have to mean, a partial and unequal Taxation in the Proprietaries Favour.---And as you thought the Words alone of that Article would beſt bear the unjuſt Meaning you were pleaſed to put on them, you contended againſt our uſing any others with them that might explain them in an equitable Senſe.---This was our ſole Diſpute; and though we think it extreamly inconvenient and improper to uſe in an Act Words of whoſe Meaning the two Branches of the Legiſlature have previouſly declared they have ſuch different and contrary Conceptions, yet, rather than His Majeſty's Service ſhould be longer obſtructed, we have given up the Point, and, in a new Bill, inſerted the very Words; confiding, that the Senſe of natural Juſtice in the Aſſeſſors and Commiſſioners, who are to execute the Act, will determine them to do what is right.

Thus the Matter might have reſted; but as your Honour, with a View of placing our Conduct in an unfavourable Light, is pleaſed to aſk us a Number of Queſtions, we are obliged to give them Anſwers, which, though ſhort, we hope will be clear and ſatisfactory. "Were not learned Counſel," you aſk, "employed, and fully inſtructed, by the Agents, on the Part of the Aſſembly, to advocate the Supply Bill of the Year 1759?" We anſwer, Yes.---"Were not thoſe Counſel twice fully heard, both "before the Lords of Trade and the King in Council, "antecedent to the Decree?" They were fully heard before the Lords of Trade, and a Committee of the Council. ---"Did not the Agents underſtand the Force and Meaning of the ſecond and third Articles, previous to their "ſigning the Stipulation?" Undoubtedly;---and as we have no Diſpute about the Meaning of the third, we ſcarce know why it is mentioned.---"If they entertained a No"tion that they were ambiguous, why did they not then "object to them, when they might have had their Doubts "removed upon the Spot?" It ſeems they entertained no ſuch Notion, nor had any Doubts to be removed. It appears by the Pleadings of the Proprietaries Counſel, of which we have a Copy taken firſt in Short-hand, that they there made no ſuch Claim of a partial and unequal Taxation of their located uncultivated Lands, as is now made for them. They only pretended Fears that the People would tax them unequally, and deſired no more than that ſuch Proviſion ſhould be made, as might ſecure for them an equal Taxation. The Doubts you mention, if there are any, have ariſen in Pennſylvania. Your Honour makes it a Crime in us, to ſuppoſe any Ambiguity or Obſcurity in the Words of a Report of a Committee of Council, though that Suppoſition aroſe merely on the Obſervation of your differing ſo widely from us in the Conſtruction of them. This was our Remark, "We may both be ſeparately clear in our Conceptions of their Meaning; but "our differing ſo widely in thoſe Conceptions, ſeems to "indicate at leaſt ſome Ambiguity or Obſcurity in the "Terms." If your Honour had not differed from us in the Meaning of theſe Words of the Report, there would have been no Doubts about it, for we made none And our Obſervation, that Laws compoſed by the wiſeſt Men, are ſometimes found to contain Obſcurities and Uncertainties, which thoſe who are to execute them find difficult to clear and ſettle: And that, when any Words of ſuch Laws are capable of two Meanings, one unjuſt and unequal, and the other conſiſtent with Juſtice and Equity, we conceived it a good Rule to judge that the Intention is with the latter, aroſe originally upon your differing with us in that Conſtruction. But this you candidly call a "con"tending that the controverted Articles of the Decree re"quire Additions and Explanations to be made to them "by us, to reconcile them to common Juſtice and Honeſty." For our Parts, we cannot yet perceive any thing indecent or "immodeſt" in our Obſervation, that Laws made by the wiſeſt Bodies of Men (by King, Lords and Commons, for Inſtance) do ſometimes contain Obſcurities and Uncertainties.-----Subſequent Laws frequently made by the ſame auguſt Legiſlators, to explain the preceding, are Proofs of it. We therefore added juſtly, that it was no Reflection on ſuch Bodies to ſay this.---But as your Honour purpoſed to make us appear guilty of a Reflection on them, you thought fit to mutilate the Sentence in your Quotation of it from our Meſſage, and leave thoſe Words entirely out.---But to return to your Honour's Queſtions. ---"Why were not the Objections lately made againſt "thoſe Parts of the Decree, pointed out and urged to "Mr. HAMILTON, as Reaſons for not coming into the "Meaſure, when he repeatedly ſolicited you to comply "with the Stipulations of your Agents? Anſwer. The Objections in Queſtion are againſt an unjuſt Conſtruction, that, in our Opinion, your Honour put on certain Words, which being uſed in the Stipulations of the Agents, you contended ſhould be inſerted, without Explanation, in the Bill. As this Conſtruction was never put on thoſe Words by Governor HAMILTON, we could not point out and urge to him thoſe Objections againſt it.---"Why have "theſe Objections been treaſured up, and kept in Reſerve, "till this critical Period?" Objections not in Being could not be "treaſured up;" and Objections of no Kind can exiſt, previous to a Suppoſition of the Thing objected to. Your Honour will pleaſe to reflect, that your Conſtruction, which theſe Objections relate to, was as new and ſtrange, as it is unjuſt and unequal; and ſo glaringly unjuſt and unequal, that you was yourſelf unwilling to own it, and could not, till after three Meſſages urging an Explanation from you, prevail with yourſelf openly to avow it.

You are pleaſed to add, "As to the Equity and Juſtice "of the Decree, I ſhould think I juſtly ſubjected myſelf to "the Charge of offering the higheſt Affront to, and flying in the Face of, that ſupreme and auguſt Judicatory "who pronounced it, were I to enter into any Arguments

"with you in Support of it." Will your Honour give us Leave once more to put you in Mind, that it is not the Equity and Juſtice of a Decree that we are diſputing, but your unequal and unjuſt Conſtruction of it, viz. that the beſt and moſt valuable of the Proprietaries Lands ſhall be taxed no higher than the worſt of the Peoples. Your total Inability of ſupporting this Conſtruction, by the leaſt Colour of Argument or Reaſon, is what you would fain conceal, under that extravagant Pretence of Reſpect to the Judicatory who, you ſay, pronounced it. Could you, by any Arguments, have ſhewn the Equity and Juſtice of ſuch a Taxation, we ſhould not now have heard, for the firſt Time, this extraordinary Poſition, that demonſtrating the Equity and Juſtice of a Decree, would be flying in the Face of Authority. Wiſe, learned and pious Men, have, in all Ages, thought themſelves well employed in convincing Mankind of the Reaſonableneſs, Equity and Juſtice, of Laws human and divine; and never once dreamt that by ſo doing, they were "offering the higheſt Affront "to, and flying in the Face of, the ſupreme and auguſt Ju- "dicatories who pronounced them."

Your Honour charges us with beſtowing much Abuſe on the Proprietaries. Stating plain public Facts, where neceſſary, we do not conceive to be Abuſe, though done in plain Terms:---But the miſrepreſenting a loyal and dutiful People to their Sovereign, as the Proprietaries, to cloak their own Avarice, have done the People of this Province, for many Years paſt, is, in our Opinion, Abuſe, though it were delivered in the politeſt Language. It was in this Part of your Honour's Meſſage that we expected that Vindication of the Proprietaries, which in the firſt Paragraph ſeemed to be propoſed: But now you chuſe to paſs all over with a "ſilent Diſregard," reflecting probably on the Maxim you had before advanced, that "Facts "are ſtubborn Things," and deſpairing, it ſeems, by any "Colouring," to "diſguiſe the Truth."

Your Honour's "Reſolution to diſcharge the Station "you fill, with Fidelity and Juſtice to the good People of "this Province," is highly laudable; but may we be permitted to aſk a Queſtion or two in our Turn? Is it conſiſtent with Juſtice to the good People of this Province, to inſiſt on taxing the beſt and moſt valuable of the Proprietaries Lands, no higher than the worſt and leaſt valuable of the Peoples Lands, in a common Tax to be levied for the Defence of the Whole? And farther, when the Requiſition was made to your Honour, by the General, of raiſing a Number of Men for His Majeſty's Service in your Province, were not the Three Lower Counties underſtood to be included? Your Honour has ſince met and exchanged Compliments with the Aſſembly of thoſe Counties, without making (as far as we have heard) the leaſt Demand of them. Is it "Juſtice to the good People of this Pro- "vince," to ſaddle them with all the Expence of defending that Government, with all the Proprietary Property contained in it, and not call upon it for the leaſt Aſſiſtance, while we are, and ſhall ſo long be, loaded with the heavy Debt the Wars have occaſioned?---The Troops raiſed here will perhaps all be marched to the Weſtward, in His Majeſty's ſervice; In which Caſe at leaſt we cannot but think it reaſonable to have expected a Proportion of Forces from that Government, to aſſiſt in the Protection of our Frontier.

Your Honour's Meſſage concludes with recommending to us (as if we had hitherto neglected it) the raiſing Supplies for the King's Service, the Defence of the Frontiers, and Diſcharge of the public Debt. Which obliges us to remark, that within a few Months we have ſent up to your Honour three Bills for thoſe Purpoſes, two of which have been rejected, becauſe they required a fair and equal Taxation of the Proprietary with other Eſtates, for their common Defence. And we may add, that in our Zeal for the public Service, we have departed from the ancient Forms of Parliamentary Proceeding, and waved very important Rights, which, under a more equitable Government, we ſhould not have been conſtrained to; and ſuch a Government we now hope is not far diſtant, and that an End will thereby be put to theſe diſagreeable and miſchievous Proprietary Contentions, and the People of this much injured Province reſtored to their Privileges, which they have long been deprived of; Proprietary Will and Pleaſure, expreſſed in their Inſtructions, being now our only Law, which, through public Neceſſities, and the Diſtreſſes of War, we have been and are compelled to obey.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,

May 30, 1764. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, Speaker.

By Captain Clouſton, arrived at Boſton in five Weeks from Ireland, we have the following Advices, viz.

WARSAW, March 17.

HERE are publiſhed two Declarations, one by the Court of Vienna, and the other by that of France, whereby thoſe two Courts reſpectively declare to the Primate, that they are reſolved to leave the Election of a King entirely free, and that they ſhall in no reſpect concern themſelves therewith.

LONDON.

April 3. Lord Clive having repeatedly been requeſted by the Proprietors of the Eaſt-India Stock, to take upon him the Direction of their Affairs in Bengal, and to proceed thither, has refuſed accepting that Service: His Reaſon therefor is, that a Difference is ſubſiſting between him and Mr. Sullivan, the preſent Deputy-Chairman of the Company: Whereupon a Reconciliation was propoſed; but on the 28th of March, Lord Clive ſent a final Anſwer to the following Purport, that having conſidered in the cooleſt Manner, and without Prejudice, that he can place no Confidence in one, who in his opinion, has acted, and does continue to act, upon Principles diametrically oppoſite to the true Intereſt of the India Company; That, upon the whole, in caſe the Proprietors think it for their Advantage that Mr. Sullivan ſhould remain at the Head of the Direction, he could not accept the Service: But in caſe the Proprietors ſhould not think it neceſſary to continue Mr. Sullivan in ſuch Authority, he was willing and ready to accept their Service, even ſuppoſing the next advice ſhould pronounce their Affairs in Bengal, to be in as deſperate a Condition as ever they were: That ſhould a Direction be ſettled with whom he could poſſibly co-operate, every Thing will be eaſily adjuſted, ſince he had no intereſted Views in going abroad.

The ſeveral Paragraphs that have appeared in the News papers, relative to his Majeſty's Journey to Hanover this Seaſon, were wholly groundleſs, no ſuch thing having been ever intended.

Sunday the Purſer of the Royal George, Captain Scott, came to the India Houſe with the agreeable news of the above ſhip being arrived ſafe at Plymouth from Bengal. She ſailed from thence the 14th of October, and brings advice, that all things there were in a perfect ſtate of Tranquility; that the outward bound ſhips were all arrived, and that the Earl of Effingham ſailed five days before the Royal George, and is therefore hourly expected.

It is expected that Admiral Corniſh is at the Cape by this Time, as he ſailed from Bengal the beginning of February.

East-India Houſe, April 4.

By the Company's Ship Royal George, which arrived at Spithead from Bengal on the 11 Inſt, the Court of Directors have received Letters from that Preſidency to the following Purport: That the Diſputes between the Company's Servants there, and the reigning Nabob, Coſſim Aly Cawn, had been productive of ſuch Animoſities and Jealouſies on the Part of the latter, that it was judged highly neceſſary to uſe every Means to allay them. For this Purpoſe Meſſ. Amyatt and Hay, two Gentlemen of the Council, were deputed to wait upon the Nabob with Inſtructions to endeavour to adjuſt the Differences in an amicable Manner. They accordingly arrived at Mongheer, the Place of his Reſidence, on the 12th of May, and had many Conferences with him, in which he evidently ſhewed a great Averſeneſs to an Accommodation upon the Terms offered to him. About this Time a Supply of 500 Stand of Arms, going to Patna, was ſtopped by the Nabob's Officers, and other acts of Hoſtility were committed; and Affairs being come to an Extremity, a War with Coſſim Aly was unavoidable. Meſſieurs. Amyatt and Hay were recalled, and Meaſures were taken at the Preſidency, to carry it on in the moſt effectual Manner. Mr. Amyatt having taken Leave of the Nabob the 24th of June, and received the uſual Paſſports, he ſet out in Boats for Calcutta, accompanied with Meſſ. Amphlet, Wollaſton and Hutchinſon; Lieutenants Jones, Gordon, and Cooper; and Doctor Crooke, (Meſſ. Hay and Gulſton remaining with the Nabob as Hoſtages.) As the Boats were paſſing the City of Mooreſhedabad, they were attacked the 3d of July by a Number of Troops, aſſembled for that Purpoſe, on both Sides the River, and ſome of the Gentlemen were killed in the Boats. Mr. Amyatt immediately landed with a few Seapoys, which he forbid to fire, and endeavoured to make the Enemy's Troops underſtand that he was furniſhed with the Nabob's Paſſports, and had no Deſign of committing any Hoſtilities; but the Enemy's Horſe advancing, ſome of the Seapoys fired, notwithſtanding Mr. Amyatt's Orders; and a great Confuſion enſuing, that Gentleman, and moſt of the ſmall Party who were with him him, were cut to Pieces.

By the ſaid letters it further appears, that Mr. Ellis and his Council at Patna, having with the Approbation of Capt. Carſtairs, agreed to attack that city early in the morning of the 25th of June, it was accordingly executed and carried; they were in entire poſſeſſion of that city for four hours, the Mooriſh Governor and moſt of his people having fled as far as Cutwa; that he there came to a reſolution to return and attempt to regain the city, and having got in at the water ſide gate of the fort, he ſucceeded in diſpoſſeſſing our troops, owing to the Seapoys and Europeans being moſtly diſperſed in plundering: That upon their retiring into the factory, on account of the diſpiritedneſs of the men, and a great deſertion among the Seapoys, it was found impracticable to make any ſtand there; and a reſolution was therefore taken to proceed to Sujah Dowlas's country; that they accordingly croſſed the river the 26th in the Evening, and met with no obſtruction until they paſſed Churpa; that then they were attacked on the 30th by the Phouſdar, with about 20co men, whom they eaſily routed; but he being that evening joined from Budgepore with four or five hundred Seapoys, and five or ſix field-pieces, he attacked the party on the next evening, the 1ſt of July, and entirely routed them, the Europeans having quitted their ranks at the firſt onſet; that in the whole there were about fifty Europeans killed, and about eight or 9 officers, amongſt the laſt Captain Carſtairs, who was killed by a cannon ball in the morning of the 1ſt; that on the ſecond Mr. Ellis, with the officers and private men, were taken priſoners, and by the laſt advices were all at Mongheer, excepting Capt Wilſon, Enſigns Mackay and Armſtrong, Mr. Anderſon, Surgeon, and Mr. Peter Campbell, who then remained Priſoners at Patna.

Upon theſe and other acts of hoſtility againſt ſeveral of the company's ſettlements committed by Coſſim Ally, it was determined to declare war againſt him, and to reſtore the former Nabob, Meer Jaffier, to the Subahſhip, upon his entering into a new treaty with the company. War was accordingly declared, and an advantageous treaty was concluded, the moſt material articles whereof are a confirmation of his former treaty, and alſo of the provinces of Burdwan, Nidnapoor, and Chittagon, granted by the late Nabob Coſſim Ally, engaging to give thirty lacks of rupees to defray the expences and loſs accruing to the company from the war, and engaging alſo to reimburſe the amount of private perſons loſſes.

Meer Jaffier ſet out a few days after to join the army under Major Adams, which was then on its march towards Moorſhedabad. The firſt action which happened, was on the 16th of July, oppoſite to Cutwa, on the Coſſimbuzar ſide of the river. The Major having croſſed the army the night before, in the morning came up with a large body of the enemy's troops, who were ſtrongly poſted to oppoſe his progreſs to the city; and having attacked them, they were routed, after a ſmall reſiſtance, and with an inconſiderable loſs on our ſide. A detatched party, under the command of Capt. Long, at the ſame time poſſeſſed themſelves of the fort of Cutwa, on the other ſide of the river; and all the artillery they had there, as well as what they had brought into the field, fell into our hands. In this action Mahomed Tuckey Cawn, who, it is ſaid, commanded the attack on Mr. Amyatt's party, was mortally wounded, and died a few days after.

The good effects of this ſucceſs were diſplayed in the eaſy conqueſt that followed of the city of Moorſhedabad, which the army entered with a trifling oppoſition the 24th at night. Here the Major eſtabliſhed and proclaimed the Nabob Meer Jaffier in due form, and halted ſome days to refreſh the army.

On the 28th of July, the Major continued his march towards Mongheer; and on the 2d of Auguſt, having arrived near a place called Sooty, at the head of the Coſſimbuzar river, a very obſtinate engagement enſued with a numerous army of the enemy's beſt troops and artillery, who there occupied a very ſtrong and advantageous poſt. The ſtand that they made was reſolute and uncommon for troops of this country, having cloſely engaged our forces for four hours; however, by the intrepidity and good conduct of Major Adams, and the remarkable bravery of the officers and men, the enemy ſuſtained a total defeat. The loſs on our ſide was not ſo conſiderable as might have been expected from ſo ſevere an action, conſiſting only of ſix officers and 40 Europeans, and 222 Seapoys and Black horſe killed and wounded. On the ſide of the enemy, a great number of men were killed and wounded, 23 pieces of cannon, and about 150 boats laden with military and other ſtores taken; amongſt theſe laſt were found all the artillery and moſt of the Patna detatchment's ſtores; and within ſome days after the action, between 60 and 70 of the men who were taken priſoners at Patna, and had been engaged by foul means and fair to ſerve the enemy's guns, returned to their colours.

Immediately after this battle the Major advanced with the army near to Rajamaul; about three or four miles from which place the enemy had thrown up a ſtrong entrenchment from the hills to the river, and for the forcing of which it was judged moſt proper for enſuring the ſafety of the troops to carry on regular approaches. Every thing having been accordingly prepared, the works were begun upon the 29th of Auguſt, and continued till the 5th of September, when the Major reſolved upon an aſſault, which was executed with very little loſs, and their whole works fell into our poſſeſſion that morning. This ſucceſs, we have great reaſon to believe, will be deciſive of the fate of the war, as the enemy ſeemed to repoſe their chief confidence in the ſtrength of theſe works, and now by the loſs of them are deprived of all ſupplies of proviſion from the province of Bengal, which is entirely ſecured to us.

Major Adams, in his letters, where he gives an account of his ſeveral engagements with the enemy, has given juſt praiſes to Major Carnac, Major Knox, and other officers who have diſtinguiſhed themſelves, as well as to the officers and troops in general for their gallant behaviour. To Major Carnac he aſcribes particular merit, for the vigorous attack which he led againſt the main body of the enemy in the general action of the 2d of Auguſt, and which made the firſt impreſſion, contributing thereby in great meaſure to the victory we had obtained. The ſame juſtice is due to Major Adams, which he has done to the officers and troops under his command, and the higheſt praiſe is due to him from the Company for his good conduct in this campaign, which has been attended with extraordinary difficulties and fatigues, on account of the rainy ſeaſon and the badneſs of the roads; and in which, by his ability in forming the plans of attack in ſuch a manner to take every advantage the ſituation of the enemy admitted, he has inſured the ſucceſs of his operations with the ſmalleſt loſs of men poſſible; and to which moſt valuable qualification, he adds a coolneſs and intrepidity unſhaken in the midſt of action.

Governor Vanſittart writes to the Directors of the Eaſt-India Company, that as the friends of the Gentlemen priſoners with the late Nabob Coſſim Aly, would be anxious to have a certain account of them, he tranſmitted the copy of a letter to Major Adams, from Meſſ. Ellis and Hay, dated at Patna the 4th of October laſt, mentioning, that the number of priſoners was 49, who were taking meaſures for the purchaſe of their deliverance: On the Major's nearer approach towards Patna, that officer was alſo endeavouring to effect ſo deſirable an event. The Governor adds, as Meſſ. Ellis and Hay take notice of the death of Capt. Turner only, it was preſumed all the reſt were well.

Governor Vanſittart afterwards adviſed the reduction of Mongheer, on the 11th of October, by the Major, without the loſs of one man before the town.

Governor Vanſittart further acquaints the Court of Directors, in a letter dated the 8th of October, 1763, That if the war ſhould not be brought to a ſucceſsful end, he will ſtay in Bengal till the following year at all riſks, although it is the opinion of the Phyſicians, he is very incapable of going through another hot ſeaſon; but if the troubles ſhould be ſo far quieted, that he can leave the Company's poſſeſſions in ſafety, he hopes to be in London about September next.

The Court of Directors having a due ſenſe of the gallant behaviour and great ſervices of Major Carnac, as noticed in Major Adams's advices, have unanimouſly agreed to reſtore to him the command of the Company's forces in Bengal."

April 5. This day his Majeſty went in ſtate to the Houſe of Peers, and gave the Royal Aſſent to the following bills, viz.

The bill for granting to his Majeſty a certain ſum out of the ſinking fund, for the ſervice of the preſent year.

The bill for altering the duties on beaver ſkins.

The bill for granting certain duties on goods in the Britiſh colonies, and to make perpetual an act for encouraging the trade to the Sugar Colonies.

And to ſeveral other bills to repair roads, encloſe lands, &c. &c.

NEW-YORK, June 4.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated March 24.

"Yeſterday the Houſe of Commons finiſhed their Debates on the Bill depending in Parliament for taxing America, conformable to their Reſolutions of the 10th Inſtant. Incloſed are the Votes of ſaid Day, and alſo thoſe of the 22d and 23d Inſtant, by which appears the Determinations of the Committee (of the whole Houſe) thereupon.

The Well-wiſhers to America have uſed their utmoſt Endeavours to leſſen the Taxes firſt propoſed; in which they have, in ſome Meaſure, happily ſucceeded, and in other Reſpects fallen far ſhort of what they attempted; particularly, 1ſt, by not being able to reduce the Duty of One Pound Two Shillings on foreign white Sugars, or to obtain a Drawback on them, when re-exported from the Colonies.

2dly, Not being able to reduce the Duty of 3d per Gallon on Meaſſes, to 2d per Gallon, though the Houſe divided thereon.

Laſtly, Not being able (as yet) to obtain a Liberty of importing directly, Wine, Fruit and Oil from Spain and Portugal. As it now ſtands, Wine muſt come to England, and pay Three Pounds Ten Shillings per Ton Duty, and Ten Shillings more when imported into America.

On the other Hand, the 18th Reſolution, by which all German Linens, and Eaſt-India Calicoes, both white and printed (which include Muſlins alſo) were to be advanced (by the Drawbacks being ſuſpended) to 20 at 43 per Cent.

This was the Debate of Yeſterday, from the Sitting of the Houſe till Midnight; and at which all the Americans in and about this City attended, and ſeveral were examined at the Bar.

The principal Arguments of the Oppoſition to that Part of the Bill's paſſing, was obliged to be founded on the Practicability of the Americans ſupplying themſelves from Germany, St. Euſtatia, &c. notwithſtanding the Government might take every Meaſure in their Power by Cutters and Cuſtom Houſe Officers, to prevent it; and if that could be prevented, the Americans would be under the Neceſſity of manufacturing themſelves. Theſe two Points were ſo fully proved by Witneſſes at the Bar, that the Houſe was unanimouſly of Opinion, to confirm ſo far of the 17th and 18th Reſolutions, as will amount to a Duty of 2 and a Half per Cent. on foreign linens exported from hence after the 10th of May, 1764; and 5 per Cent. on Muſlins and Calicoes, white or printed, exported from hence after the 1ſt of March, 1765; therefore it will be neceſſary to tranſmit your Orders for the latter, as ſoon after the Receipt of this as poſſible, to avoid the ſaid 5 per Cent. Duty; as to Linens, the ſhort Time fixed by the Act prevents it.

It may not be improper to obſerve, that the Miniſtry, as well as the whole Houſe, appear determined, at any Expence or Trouble, to attempt to put a Stop to illicit Trade, and to give every Encouragement to divert the Americans from manufacturing. Theſe two Points will be moſt certainly attended to with the utmoſt Vigilance; and the former ſhould be particularly regarded by the Merchants in America.

The Act for the Bounty of Eight Pounds per Ton on Hemp, is now paſſing the Houſe, and ſhall be forwarded as ſoon as printed.

The 15th Reſolution relating to the Stamp Duty, will certainly paſs next Seſſions, unleſs the Americans offer a more certain Duty. Had not WILLIAM ALLEN, Eſq; been here, and indefatigable in oppoſing it, and happily having made Acquaintance with the firſt Perſonages in the Kingdom, and the greateſt Part of the Houſe of Commons, it would inevitably have paſſed this Seſſions. All the Well-wiſhers to America are of Opinion, that as the Tax in itſelf is an equitable one, and the leaſt injurious that can be propoſed, the ſeveral Aſſemblies ſhould ſignify their Aſſent and Deſire to that Tax, under the preſent Exigencies of the State, and the Neceſſity of the Caſe, by which they avoid every Appearance of an Infringement of their Liberty, and ſhew their Inclination to pay that Obedience to a Britiſh Parliament, which has the Power to make every Part of its Dominions ſubmit to ſuch Laws as they may think proper to enact; by this Means they will prevent a Precedent from internal Taxes being impoſed without their Conſent, which will inevitably be the Caſe next Seſſion, if they withhold their Aſſent to the Stamp Tax."

We hear that on Wedneſday laſt an Anchor of 1400 and a Half, made at Mr. Hawxhurſt's Sterling Iron Works, was delivered in this City, for one of His Majeſty's Sloops here. The Anchor was ſeen by ſeveral Merchants and Maſters of Ships, and much liked, and is ſuppoſed to be the largeſt that was ever made in this Government. It is hoped the Merchants in theſe Colonies will encourage the Improvement of this valuable Manufactory, ſeeing it is arrived to ſo conſiderable a Perfection.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.

On the 30th ult. the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province adjourned to the Tenth of September next.---During their Sitting the two following Laws were paſſed, viz.

An ACT for granting to His Majeſty the Sum of Fifty-five Thouſand Pounds, and for ſtriking the ſame in Bills of Credit, in the Manner herein after directed, and for providing a Fund for ſinking the ſaid Bills of Credit, by a Tax on all Eſtates, real and perſonal, and Taxables within this Province.

An ACT for regulating the Officers and Soldiers in the Pay of this Province, and for continuing an Act, intituled, "An Act for regulating the Hire of Carriages to be employed in His Majeſty's Service.

to St. Chriſtophers, put into Jamaica the 6th of April, having loſt her Main-maſt ſoon after ſhe came out; and on the 9th the Ship Antelope, Captain Ball, from Grenada to London, that failed the ſame Day with Captain Tatem, having ſprung a Leak, with much Difficulty reached Jamaica, after being 20 Days in Diſtreſs at Sea.----The Accident happened to both Veſſels the ſame Day.

By a Perſon from Berks County we are informed, that the Woman ſhot through the Neck by a Party of four Indians (as mentioned in our laſt) was ſince dead: That the two Children miſſing from Jacob Baker's, were found on the Broad Mountain, by one of our Parties, killed and ſcalped: That two young Men had been ſince murdered by the Enemy: And that the Number killed, on the Thirtieth of laſt Month, in that County, amounted to Nine.

Our Advices from Carliſle, of the 31ſt ult. are, that Information had been received there from Fort Loudoun, of one Brown being lately killed at the Mouth of Aughwick by the Indians, and his Siſter made Priſoner by them: That Captain Shelby, with a ſmall Party of Volunteers, having been ranging in the Great Cove, heard the Hallooing of a Number of the Enemy, ſuppoſed to be about Twenty; upon which he alarmed the Inhabitants, a great many of whom, it is ſaid, were repairing to the Forts.---That a Man from Auguſta County, in Virginia, adviſed, that three Perſons had lately been killed near Stanton, in that County, by the Indians: And that it was reported there was a conſiderable Number of them between Bedford and Fort Cumberland.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the HALIFAX Packet Boat, Captain BOULDERSON, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

HEADS of an ACT paſſed this Seſſions for granting certain Duties in the Britiſh Colonies and Plantations in America, &c. and for improving and ſecuring the Trade between the ſame and Great-Britain.

WHEREAS it is juſt and neceſſary, that a revenue be raiſed in America, for defraying the expences of defending and protecting, and ſecuring the ſame:

From and after 29 Sept. 1764, the following rates and duties ſhall take place on the ſeveral ſpecies of foreign goods, here enumerated, imported into any of his Majeſty's plantations in America; viz.

On foreign white or clayed ſugars, 1l. 2s. per C wt. [inſtead of 5s.]

Indigo 6d. per lb. [inſtead of 2d.]

Coffee 2l. 19s. 9d. per C wt.

Madeira wine 7l. per ton.

Portugal and Spaniſh wines 10s. per ton.

Wrought ſilks, Bengals, and ſtuffs, mixt with ſilks or herba, 2s. per lb.

Calicoes 2s. 6d. per piece.

Cambricks 3s. per piece.

French lawns 3s. per piece.

Coffee and Pimento, of the growth of the Britiſh colonies, imported from thence to other places, except Great-Britain, Coffee 7s. per C wt. Pimento (Jamaica pepper) 2d. per lb.

The Act 6 George II. (for the better ſecuring and encouraging the trade of his Majeſty's Sugar colonies in America) ſhall continue in force till the 30th of Sept. 1764; after which it ſhall be perpetual, ſubject to the alterations following:

Foreign melaſſes and ſyrups imported into the Britiſh colonies, ſhall pay 3d. per gallon [inſtead of 6d. as heretofore; which was ſeldom or never paid; but much of thoſe commodities daily ſmuggled.]

The importer refuſing to pay the duties on wines, the officer ſhall ſeize the ſame, and publickly ſell them to the beſt bidder, and deduct the duties and charges. If they ſhall not bring ſufficient to pay the duty and charges, they ſhall be ſtaved and ſpilt.

The monies ariſing by the ſeveral duties before granted, and upon ſugars, &c. ſhall be paid into the Exchequer; and be reſerved towards defraying the charges of protecting the Britiſh colonies in America.

The exporter of wines from this kingdom to the Britiſh colonies in America, ſhall be paid a drawback of the duties on importation; except 3l. 10s. per ton, granted by an act of the laſt Seſſion; and alſo the aliens duty: He firſt giving bond and ſecurity for the due exportation and landing of the ſame; conditioned to produce a certificate thereof from the proper officer, within 18 months.

No part of the old ſubſidy ſhall be repaid for any foreign goods exported as aforeſaid; except for wines, white calicoes, and muſlins: And upon the exportation of white calicoes or muſlins, neither the moiety of the old ſubſidy, nor the third part of the net duties thereon, granted by Act 11 and 12 William III. and 3 and 4 Anne, ſhall be repaid, but until 1 March, 1765, upon exportation of ſuch white calicoes and muſlins, as were ſold on or before 25 March preceding, at the India Houſe, the ſame drawbacks ſhall be allowed as are now payable.

Where goods entered for exportation to parts beyond the ſeas, in order to obtain a drawback not allowed by this act, ſhall be carried to any Britiſh plantation in America, ſuch drawback ſhall be forfeited, and double the amount thereof, with treble the value of the goods. To the oath upon debentures, for ſuch goods as ſhall be entered for exportation to other places beyond the ſeas, than to the Britiſh American plantations, ſhall be added theſe words, "Any Britiſh colonies or plantations in America."

Foreign rum or ſpirits imported into any of the Britiſh plantations in America, ſhall be forfeited, together with the veſſel, &c. [They were, before, allowed to be imported on paying 9d. per gallon.]

No ſugars ſhall be imported into Ireland, but ſuch as ſhall be ſhipped in Great Britain, and carried directly from thence.

The exporter of rum, ſpirits, paneles, melaſſes or ſyrups, from the Britiſh colonies in America, as of the growth thereof, ſhall produce and deliver to the proper officer before clearing, an affidavit of the quality of the goods, and denomination of the packages, &c. The officer ſhall grant the maſter of the veſſel a certificate thereof; and ſhall tranſmit a copy of ſuch affidavit to the Secretary's Office for the colony, on penalty of 5l.

On arrival of the veſſel at the port of diſcharge, the maſter ſhall deliver the certificate to the proper officer, and make oath of the identity of the goods, on penalty of 100l. and goods found on board not certified for, &c. ſhall pay foreign duties.

Where any ſuch goods, not included in the certificate, ſhall be imported without intending a fraud, they may be admitted to entry, paying the uſual duties.

Bond and ſecurity ſhall be given purſuant to the act 12 Car. 2. in caſe of lading any enumerated goods, that any foreign melaſſes and ſyrups, on board, ſhall be brought to ſome of the Britiſh plantations in America, or to Great-Britain; of which report ſhall be made at the port of arrival. Non-enumerated goods laden on board without bond given, ſhall be forfeited with the veſſel.

The maſter, before ſailing from the port of lading, ſhall take a certificate of his having given bond; which, upon compleating his voyage, he ſhall deliver up at the port of diſcharge, on penalty of 100l.

Britiſh veſſels with any Britiſh American goods, or foreign melaſſes or ſyrups, diſcovered near the Britiſh American coaſts, not producing a certificate as required by law; or not producing one of the port of arrival, ſhall be forfeited.

The bond for non-enumerated goods ſhall be in force for one year after the voyage; when, if no fraud appear, it ſhall be given up.

Coffee, and other enumerated goods of the Britiſh American plantations, ſhall be imported under like ſecurities and penalties, as thoſe in acts 12 and 25 Car. II.

Bond and ſecurity ſhall be given before lading any iron or lumber of the Britiſh American plantations, conditioned to land the ſame, if for Europe, in Great-Britain; and to produce a certificate thereof within 18 months; and if for any of the Britiſh American plantations, within 6 months; and if for any other place in America, Africa, or Aſia, within 12 months. Where the goods periſh, or are taken, the bond ſhall be diſcharged.

No goods ſhall be ſhipped in one Britiſh colony to be carried to another, without a ſufferance, and taking out a proper cocket; which ſhall be produced at the port of diſcharge; on forfeiture of the goods. The goods ſhall alſo be forfeited, if they do not agree with the cocket. A veſſel diſcovered near the coaſt ſhall be ſtopt; and the goods, for which no cocket is produced, ſhall be ſeized.

No veſſel ſhall be cleared out for any of the Britiſh colonies in America, unleſs the whole cargo be ſhipped in this kingdom; and where any European veſſel is diſcovered near ſuch coaſts, the goods for which no ſuch cocket is produced, ſhall be ſeized; ſalt, Madeira wines, &c. horſes, proviſions, or linens from Ireland, excepted. The penalty on counterfeiting, &c. any affidavit, or certificate, ſhall be 500l.

Foreign veſſels found at anchor, or hovering on the coaſts of any of the Britiſh American dominions, and not departing, unleſs diſtreſſed, within 48 hours after notice, ſhall be forfeited, together with the goods, except French fiſhing veſſels off Newfoundland.

Britiſh veſſels found ſtanding into, or coming out from the iſles of St. Pierre and Miquelon, or hovering, &c. on the coaſts, or with goods on board from thence, &c. ſhall be forfeited, together with the goods; and the maſter, &c. ſhall forfeit alſo treble value.

Concealed goods found on board, after report made by the maſter, and not compriſed in his report, ſhall be forfeited; and the maſter, being privy to the fraud, ſhall forfeit treble the value.

If cuſtomed goods be either laden on board, or landed, before the duties are paid, or prohibited goods be imported into, or exported out of, any of the Britiſh colonies in America, the perſons concerned therein ſhall forfeit treble the value; together with the boats, carriages, and cattle employed. An officer receiving any bribe, &c. conniving at a falſe entry; making a colluſive ſeizure; or being guilty of other fraud in his office; ſhall forfeit 500l. and be diſabled from ſerving the King in any office. And perſons giving, or promiſing any bribe, &c. to ſuch officer, in order to betray his truſt, ſhall forfeit 50l.

Penalties and forfeitures in America, may be recovered in the Courts of Record there, or Court of Vice Admiralty; and the net produce ſhall be paid, one third to the King, one third to the Governor, and one third to the Proſecutor. But ſeizures made at ſea by the King's ſhips are to go, one moiety to the King, and the other to the Proſecutor; ſubject nevertheleſs to ſuch diſtribution, as his Majeſty, by order of Council, or proclamation, ſhall make.

Where the ſeizure ſhall not anſwer the expence of condemnation and ſale, or a verdict be given for the claimant, the charges, with approbation of the commiſſioners, may be defrayed out of the cuſtoms in America.

No claims ſhall be admitted, till ſecurity to anſwer coſts be given, to the amount of 60l. and in default, ſhip and goods ſhall be condemned.

Where ſhip or goods are ſeized for any cauſe of forfeiture, the owner ſhall prove the matter in diſpute.

In trials upon information, in America, where a probable cauſe of ſeizure appears, the Judge ſhall certify the ſame on the record; and the defendant ſhall have no coſts nor action; and in ſuits, where no information ſhall be commenced and brought to Trial, and the Court ſhall certify there was a probable cauſe of ſeizure, the plaintif ſhall have but 2 d. damages, and no coſts; and the defendant be fined not more than 1 s."

Vienna. Feb. 29. Next May, three camps, by way of exerciſe, are to be formed. One in Moravia, under General Laudohn. The ſecond, which will be the moſt conſiderable, will aſſemble, during the ſittings of the States of Hungary, near Kitſee, a caſtle belonging to Prince Eſterhaſy, in the neighbourhood of Preſbourg. The ſite of the third is not yet fixed.

Florence, Feb. 27. The Spaniſh and Neapolitan Miniſters have cauſed bread to be diſtributed to the populace during four days, on account of the marriage of the Infanta of Spain with the Archduke Leopold. Our government has obliged thoſe who had amaſſed great quantities of grain to bring it to market, and ſell it at a reaſonable price, that the Poor may eat.

Hamburgh, March 14. We hear from Koningſberg, that all the Regiments in that neighbourhood have orders to hold themſelves ready to march towards the frontiers of Poland.

Naples, March 13. The famine increaſes. Turkey corn, beans, and lupines are employed in making bread, and the people croud to the places where it is delivered, and by their Numbers have occaſioned ſome diſturbances. For five days paſt the churches have been filled with perſons imploring Heaven to put a ſtop to the publick calamity. A great number of women and girls walk the ſtreets in proceſſion, barefooted, their hair looſe, and with halters about their necks. The head and blood of St. Januarius have likewiſe been expoſed, and publick prayers ordered.

Warſaw, March 17. The few who really wiſh well to their Country, ſeem uneaſy. If, ſay they, two or three parties ſhould be formed within the kingdom in favour of as many candidates, and none will give up his claim, what is to be done? Either the contentions muſt ſubſiſt, or to decide them foreign troops muſt be called in. In the firſt caſe, the troubles of the kingdom will be kept up, at leaſt the interregnum will be prolonged, perhaps a kind of civil war be kindled. In the ſecond caſe, the election will not be made according to law, and what will other foreign Powers ſay?

Francfort, March 27. This day the Archduke Joſeph was unanimouſly elected King of the Romans. The three Eccleſiaſtical Electors aſſiſted in perſon on this occaſion. The Elector of Mentz preſided. The King of the Romans will make his publick entry the 29th, and will be crowned the 3d of next month.

Hague, April 6. They write from Hamburgh of the 3d inſt. that it was aſſerted there, that a large body of Pruſſians, with a large train of artillery, had marched out of Brandenburgh Pruſſia, into Courland.

Florence, March 24. The government of Naples have ſeized five ſhips, loaden with corn, deſtined for this State: and at preſent there are armed Neapolitan veſſels cruizing in the channel of Piombino, to intercept any veſſels with corn for whatever port they are deſtined.

The Republick of Lucca has been deprived of conſiderable quantities of corn, which has been intercepted by the Genoeſe, inſomuch that they are likewiſe under great diſtreſs. Nobody can foreſee how this general calamity will end, or how it will be poſſible to find a ſufficient ſupply of corn till the harveſt, for ſo many States that are in want of it.

Dantzick, March 20. We have not yet received advice of any Ruſſian troops re-entering Courland; but the Empreſs having declared, about two months ago, that ſhe would look upon as enemies, and diſturbers of the public tranquility, all perſons who might go as Deputies to the Court of Warſaw, in order to ſtickle for the intereſt of Prince Charles of Saxony, we doubt not, ſince his party perſiſt in giving umbrage to Duke Biron, that her Imperial Majeſty will ſoon give orders for a body of troops to enter Courland, if ſhe has not already done it.

LONDON, March 17.

Letters from Leghorn, by the two Flanders mails which arrived this day, adviſe, that not Naples only, but even Sicily and Sardinia, are in great want of corn, and ſeeking it in all parts. Such quantities have been bought up at Leghorn, that the Magiſtrates, apprehenſive of their own city wanting, have fitted out an armed veſſel to bring back ſuch veſſels belonging to Leghorn, as they ſhall find at ſea, carrying corn from that city.

March 20. It is ſaid that the Fort of Senegal, with all the lands thereunto belonging, will be annexed to the African Company's ſettlements, and the trade to that place carried on for the future under the direction of the Company.

March 22. A Letter from Hanover ſays, "Some people here pretend, that one of the conditions of the election to the biſhoprick of Oſnabrug is, that if the young Prince ſhould die before the full age of twelve years, the Electoral Houſe of Brunſwick ſhall ſtill have the adminiſtration of the biſhoprick for thirteen years longer."

Letters from Riga aſſert, that great diſturbances had happened at the Dietines of Courland. The Duke de Biron's party have choſen one ſett of Nuncios, and the party of Prince Charles of Saxony have elected others.

March 24. A ſhip from Virginia, about 250 tons, was ſeen overſet near St. David's Head; ſhe had falſe galleries, and a long round houſe; a letter was taken up, directed for Captain Bellenden; no further particulars, as the ſhip's ſtern only was above water; tobacco and ſtaves appeared adrift.

The Ruſſian Miniſter, at the Court of Berlin, has received expreſs orders to inform the King, That her Imperial Majeſty could not behold with indifference the negociations actually carried on between his Majeſty and the Ottoman Porte; and that ſhe demanded moreover a categorical anſwer to the two following queſtions, firſt, Whether theſe negociations have any part of her dominions for their object? and ſecondly, Whether they are deſigned againſt the Houſe of Auſtria? in which latter caſe ſhe will conſider them as pointed againſt herſelf. To theſe queſtions the following general anſwer has been given, that the negociations in queſtion, have merely a commercial object, and are deſigned to extend the trade of his Majeſty's ſubjects. This anſwer, which does not ſeem to have entirely ſatisfied the Ruſſian Miniſter, has been ſent by an extraordinary courier to Peterſburgh.

It is ſaid, that his Pruſſian Majeſty is determined to act in concert with the Empreſs of Ruſſia, in placing Count Poniatowſki on the throne of Poland; but this account of matters is more than uncertain. There was, indeed, according to letters from Berlin, a certain point of time, when the King ſeemed diſpoſed to favour the pretenſions of that illuſtrious Pole, out of compliance with the ardent deſires of her Ruſſian Majeſty, to whom that Count has rendered himſelf ſingularly agreeable by his ſuperior talents. But at preſent the ſcene ſeems changed, and the Empreſs will probably be left to ſecond the efforts of this Count alone; for it now appears, that if the King of Pruſſia meddles in this election, it will be in favour of Prince Czartorinſki.

March 29. Since his Royal Highneſs Prince Frederick has been elected Biſhop of Oſnabrug, his robes are purple and ſilver.

The Houſe of Commons in Ireland have attended the Lord Lieutenant with heads of a bill, "for the more effectual ſuppreſſing and preventing tumultuous riſings in that Kingdom, and to oblige the inhabitants of every barony to make ſatisfaction to the ſufferers for all damages which ſhall be ſuſtained by ſuch tumults," in order to their being tranſmitted hither for approbation.

The claim of a Noble Lord to the iſland of St. Vincent, after a ſolemn hearing, which took up three days, before the Privy Council, has been adjudged invalid, for this, among other reaſons, that the firſt and moſt eſſential conditions of the grant were never complied with by his Lordſhip's noble anceſtor, who, inſtead of landing there, clearing a certain quantity of land, and placing thereon a certain number of white people, never ſo much as attempted to land, after miſcarrying at St. Lucia. It is in conſequence of this determination, that St. Vincent is mentioned with the other iſlands, in the late proclamation for the ſale of our Weſt-India conqueſts.

April 3. Information having been given, that ſeveral of his Majeſty's ſubjects have been for a conſiderable time, and are now, detained in France as hoſtages for the payment of ranſom bills, which have not yet been ſatisfied: Notice was given in the Gazette of laſt Saturday, that in caſe ſuch ranſom bills are not forthwith diſcharged, proſecutions will be commenced in his Majeſty's Court of Admiralty againſt all Maſters, Owners, and others, unjuſtly refuſing or neglecting to pay the ſums of money ſtipulated for the releaſe of thoſe unfortunate perſons, who have ſuffered ſo long impriſonment.

It is reported, that a deſervedly reſpected Nobleman has declared, that provided he goes to the Eaſt-Indies, and is allowed a proper number of ſhips and forces, he will engage to bring home (and obtained by honourable methods) as much ſpecie and effects, as after paying the full charges and expences of the expedition, will be ſufficient to diſcharge and pay off the whole national debt.

Extract of a letter from Milan, March 17.

"The Duke of York, after ſtaying here a week, during which he was treated with all the honours due to his high birth, is gone, at the invitation of the Infant Duke, to Parma."

April 12. The troubles in Poland increaſe daily, and will probably terminate in events that are, hitherto, but little expected. It is imagined that Prince Xavier of Saxony has not entirely renounced his pretenſions to the Poliſh throne, notwithſtanding the little probability there is of his making them good. That Prince has employed agents to borrow at Amſterdam the ſum of 150,000l. ſterling, and has ſent jewels of an immenſe value, which are ſuppoſed to be thoſe of the Electoral Houſe, to be depoſited in the Bank, as a ſecurity for this ſum, for which an intereſt of four per cent. is offered. Several perſons, allured by ſuch good intereſt, and ſuch good ſecurity, ſubſcribed their names in this negociation; and the ſubſcription was almoſt full, when ſome, reflecting that this ſum was borrowed by the Prince, in his own name only, without the authoriſation of the States of Saxony, or that of the Electreſs Dowager, and alſo upon a ſecurity that did not belong to him, withdrew their ſubſcription, and thus inſpired diffidence into their fellow-citizens. The negotiation therefore ſtands ſuſpended until the matter be farther cleared up. Some allege, that this ſum is deſigned to ſtrengthen the Saxon fund, known by the name of Stuer, which, after a ſuſpenſion of payment for many years, is now placed upon a new footing; and in conſequence of a compoſition, has begun to pay three inſtead of five per cent. to the perſons concerned in it. Others think it is to be employed in Poland, where an intriguing Princeſs is ſuppoſed to manage with dexterity the intereſts of the Houſe of Saxony.

By ſome of our former accounts from Hamburgh we were led to underſtand, that the Prince Czartorinſky had embarked with all his intereſt in the cauſe of his couſin Count Poniatowſki; and that his appearing to claim the Crown for himſelf, was only a feint to prevent many of his adherents, who are not well affected to the latter, from joining with the other candidates, who ſecretly or openly pretend to that high dignity. But it is almoſt univerſally believed that Prince Czartorinſki acts in his own behalf, and will be ſtrongly ſupported in his pretenſions. In the mean time the ſilence of the King of Pruſſia has a very brooding aſpect, and will probably bring forth ſomething that, as yet, is but little expected.

April 14. The M'Dowell, from Maryland for Glaſgow, is entirely loſt on Tuſker Rock, S. E. of the Point of Ireland: the crew were ſaved by a coaſting veſſel.

The Duke of Cumberland packet boat, Capt. Goodridge, from New-York, is arrived at Falmouth with a mail.

Monday evening a Gentleman going along the Poultry loſt his hat, but could not perceive any perſon near him but a Baker with a Baſket on his ſhoulder: A perſon looking out of the window, called to the Gentleman to ſtop the Baker, when a little boy was found in his baſket with three hats, all of which he had ſnatched off perſons heads as they paſſed along---This is an old way of robbing revived

Thurſday a ſervant at a public-houſe in Paddington, having ſome words with his maſter, and ſwearing in a moſt reprobate manner, dropped down in a fit, and expired in a few minutes.

The Houſe of Commons is adjourned to Wedneſday next; and we hear that his Majeſty will go to the houſe of Peers on Thurſday, and put an end to the Seſſions.

Yeſterday was held a Court of Directors of the Eaſt-India Company, when Thomas Rous, Eſq; was elected Chairman, and Henry Crab Boulton, Eſq; Deputy Chairman; upon which Meſſ. Sullivan, Thornton, Smith, Rooke, and Boyd, withdrew from the Court, with an intention (as it is ſuppoſed) to diſqualify themſelves from acting in the Direction.

This event will probably be attended with important conſequences to the Company's affairs, as the chief obſtacle to their reaping the benefit of Lord Clive's ſervices by his going abroad ſeems to be hereby removed.

Whitehall, March 31. The King has been pleaſed to conſtitute and appoint Robert Melvill, Eſq; Captain General and Governor in Chief in and over the iſlands of Grenada, the Grenadines, Dominico, St. Vincent, and Tobago, in America, and of all other iſlands and territories adjacent thereto, and which now are, or heretofore have been dependent thereon.

St. James's, April 10. The King has been pleaſed to conſtitute and appoint George James Bruere, Eſq; to be Governor and Commander in Chief of the Bermuda or Summer Iſlands in America, in the room of William Popple, Eſq; deceaſed.

BOSTON, June 4.

For ſome Time laſt paſt, the Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD hath been ſo well as to preach thrice a week to very crowded Auditories. We hear he intends to leave the Town in about a Week.

NEWPORT, June 4.

The Ship Britannia, Captain Oliver Warner, arrived here Yeſterday, in 32 Days from the Bay of Honduras, by whom we are adviſed, that the Expreſs which was ſent from the Bay to Jamaica, ſome Time ſince, to ſolicit the Aſſiſtance of Governor Lyttleton, for extricating the Baymen out of their Difficulties, had returned; the Reſult of which Solicitations is particularly related in the following Extract of a Letter from Mr. Lawrie, to Meſſieurs Forſter, Maud, and the Gentlemen of the Bay Committee, dated at Kingſton, in Jamaica, the 10th of April, 1764.

"Your Diſpatches to Governor Lyttleton, and your Letter to me, dated the 28th of February, by Capt. Belfour, I received, who arrived here on the 27th of March; I immediately waited on Governor Lyttleton, and delivered them. I repreſented to him in the ſtrongeſt Manner, the Diſtreſſes of his Majeſty's Subjects in the Bay, and the miſerable Situation they were reduced to, by removing their Families and Effects into a River, in a Manner deſerted; expoſed to the Inclemency of the Weather, without a Hut to cover them: In ſhort, I painted your Diſtreſs in the ſtrongeſt Manner I was Maſter of, and uſed every Argument in my Power, in order to incite him to give you immediate Relief.

"His Reply to me was, that he had no Inſtructions from the Miniſtry, with Reſpect to the Bay of Honduras: That he was very ready to do any Thing in his Power for their Aſſiſtance, and aſked me what Method I thought the moſt ſpeedy he could take for their Relief. I told his Excellency, that a Ship of War was, I thought, the moſt ſpeedy and effectual Method; he thought that too precipitate a Method, and did not apprehend that the Spaniards intended any Violence. I told him that I knew no greater Hardſhips that could happen to a Subject, or ſo dreadful, as being drove from their Habitations. I then aſked him to ſend an Officer to ſignify to the Spaniſh Governor and Commandant, that the Inhabitants were his Britannic Majeſty's Subjects, and had ſettled in Conſequence of the Treaty of Peace. He ſaid that he had ſent down an Officer as ordered by his Majeſty, that was not returned: That he had no Fund to pay any Officer on ſuch Service, conſequently could not command one without Pay. I engaged in your Behalf, to pay the Expence, which he ſaid he could not take upon him, having no Inſtructions relative to the Bay.

"I then offered to carry his Diſpatches, if he would give me Inſtructions, but ſaid he would write to the Governor of Jucatan, and repreſent your Situation to the Miniſtry at Home. I left him, and waited upon him according to his Appointment, to receive his Diſpatches, which I have got, then returned, and related what happened to Mr. Hall, and ſome other of my Friends. Not thinking his Excellency's Letters ſufficient (from what he related to me) to anſwer the Urgency of your Affairs, was adviſed to apply to the Admiral; accordingly got a Friend of mine, and an Acquaintance of the Admiral's, to wait upon him: He ſeemed inclined to give his Aſſiſtance: I then ſet about drawing a Petition, to be ſigned by the Merchants, which was preſented to him on the 10th Inſtant. I cannot pretend to ſay with any Certainty, whether we ſhall be able to procure a Ship from the Admiral, or not, which has determined me to ſend you Governor Lyttleton's Letters of Diſpatches, to the Governor of Jucatan, which, if it has no other Effect, will prevent you from being inſulted till ſome Remedy appears."

Captain Warner left the following Veſſels at the Bay, viz. Captains Potts and Kea, in two Ships belonging to London; Captain Aſh, in the Ship Pennſylvania Packet, of Philadelphia; Captain Morris in a Ship, Captains Coffee and Shirley in two Brigs, and a Brig from the Miſſiſippi, all of New-York; a Snow and Sloop belonging to Jamaica; and Captain Iſaiah Grinnel, in a Sloop from this Port.---Theſe Veſſels, with others, being ordered, by the Spaniſh Governor, to retire to Baliſ, find it impoſſible to procure Cargoes.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.

Late on Wedneſday Evening, the 6th Inſtant, the Rev. Doctor SMITH, PROVOST of the COLLEGE of this City, arrived in perfect Health, having come in the Halifax Packet, in about ſix Weeks from Falmouth. The Day following, the Profeſſors of the College, in their proper Habits, and many of the principal Gentlemen of the City, gave him a moſt cordial Welcome at his Houſe; and on Tueſday laſt the TRUSTEES of the College received him at the College, and, after peruſing the Papers and Accounts which he laid before them, they did, by the Mouth of their PRESIDENT, return him their unanimous Thanks, for the great Zeal, Ability and Addreſs, which he hath ſhewn in the Management of the Collection, carried on in Conjunction with Sir JAMES JAY, for this College, and that of New-York; by Means of which, about Thirteen Thouſand Pounds Sterling will come clearly, to be divided between the two Seminaries.

Saturday laſt the Ship Catherine, Captain Dunn, arrived here from Liverpool, with whom came Paſſenger Mr. ADAM HOOPS.

Extract of a Letter from Williamſburgh, May 19.

"An Expreſs is juſt arrived to the Governor, with an Account that the Indians have done a great deal of Miſchief on Patterſon's Creek; they came to Cook's Fort, and imitated the Cry of wild Turkies; upon which one of the Garriſon ſaid, as the Turkies were ſo plenty, he would take his Gun and ſee if he could not kill two or three; but on his Way to the Place where the Cry proceeded from, he ſaw a Deer, and thought he had better make ſure of that, but he had no ſooner fired his Rifle than he had four Guns fired at him; the Ball of one went thro' his Hat, and another thro' the Skirts of his Coat: He endeavoured to load again, but they came running towards him, which obliged him to throw away his Gun, and make for the Fort, but they cut him off from that, ſo he then took immediately down to the Inhabitants, and, after a twelve Hours Chace, he got clear of them. How many People they have killed, I have not yet learnt."

From Shippenſburgh we have Advice, that the young Woman, who was lately made Priſoner at the Mouth of Aughwick, made her Eſcape the next Evening after ſhe was taken: That on Sunday, the Third Inſtant, the Indians killed one William Crow, about 15 Miles from Shippenſburgh, and carried off his Wife and four Children, Priſoners: That as a Boy was milking a Cow, about a Mile from ſaid Crow's, he ſaw an Indian crawling towards him, upon which he went into the Houſe, took a Gun, and fired at him, about 80 Yards Diſtance, which made the Fellow ſtagger, when another immediately came up, and helped the wounded One off: And that this Party of Indians was ſaid to conſiſt of twelve.

"The Corporal and four Men, who went with the laſt Returns to Ligonier, are not yet returned, and I am in ſome Pain about them, as the Savages begin now to diſcover themſelves round the Skirts of the Woods.-----On the 27th of May, in the Morning, a Soldier of the 42d Regiment was fired at, as he was ſtanding Centry, upon the Point of Grant's Hill; this Centry was detached from a Corporal's Guard, which was out that Morning to cover the Ploughs at Work in Captain Philips's Field; tho' the Centry was mortally wounded, he made his Eſcape, but died in about two Hours after he came into the Fort.---That Party of Indians (Nine in Number) remained yelping on the Point of the Hill, till the Picquet was more than Half-way up to them, and then they ran off into the Woods, and the Picquet returned into the Fort,-------At Night, between the Hours of Nine and Ten, the whole Garriſon heard fourteen Death Halloo's on the other Side of the Allegheny River.------On the 28th, in the Morning, two Indians were ſeen upon the Point of Grant's Hill; and in the Afternoon of the ſame Day, five of the Enemy were ſeen by the Picquet in the Face of the Encampment Hill.-----On the 29th a Shot was heard towards the Two Mile Run, not far from the Road leading to Ligonier.-----The 30th, in the Afternoon, two Indians were again ſeen upon the Point of Grant's Hill, juſt above the Ligonier Road; and late in the Evening, two Horſes, with Bells, and ſome Indians with them, were ſeen on the oppoſite Side of the Allegheny.------All theſe Circumſtances put together, make me imagine that the Savages are aſſembling to infeſt the Communication, though, I believe, not in ſuch Numbers as to dare to moleſt the Troops coming up againſt them.------The Commanding Officers at Ligonier and Bedford, have had Notice of the above------We are very eaſy here, not imagining it in the Power of all the Savages to moleſt us."

Our Advices from Carliſle, of the Fourth Inſtant are, That a Man was found dead and ſcalped, in the Road between Loudoun and Shippen's Town: That at Bedford one Man had been killed, and another carried off: That at Fort Littleton one Man was wounded: And that the Roads were much infeſted by the Enemy.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Cumberland, June 5.

"On the 26th ult. a large Body of Indians fell on a Party of White People, working in a Field near Fort Dinwiddie, in Auguſta County, Virginia, when they killed Fifteen, and wounded and took Sixteen more; they then attacked the Fort, and fired ſix Hours ſucceſſively on it, but could not prevail.----This Day I received an Expreſs from Col. Stephens, who informs me, that on the Fourth Inſtant Captain Nimrod Aſhby, and a Man of the Virginia Volantiers, were taken Priſoners on the South Branch of Potowmack.----The ſame Day a Negroe Fellow, belonging to one Lynch, was taken as he was driving a Waggon; the Horſes were killed, and the Waggon broke to Pieces.------Alſo, at the ſame time, a Man, his Wife, and Child, were carried off from Cedar-creek, within ten Miles of Wincheſter; and it is ſuppoſed, by the great Number of Tracks diſcovered, that there muſt be three or four large Bodies of the Enemy now down among us; the Inhabitants are chiefly gone away, or going."

Extract of a Letter from Virginia, June 4.

"The Situation of our Frontiers is truly diſtreſſing.-----The Indians killing and captivating daily.-----About eight Days paſt, upwards of forty Perſons were killed at the Paſtures, on the Frontiers of Auguſta County-----We were hopeful our Troubles were in ſome Meaſure over; but, to our Surprize, the Indians came on Friday laſt, about ſeven Miles from me, and took one Day's Wife, and four Children. Next Morning, about Sun-riſe, four Families going to a Fort with Horſes loaded, the Indians Way-laid them, and killed and captivated 21, whoſe Names were Lloyd, and his Family, Cloaper, Jones, Thomas, &c. This Morning, about Two o'Clock, I was informed that about Sun-ſet Yeſterday, ſix Families were cut off near the Narrow Paſſage. Two Companies of Men are gone after the Enemy, to re-take the Captives, if poſſible, of which there are as yet no Accounts."

"Laſt Week ſeveral Indian Tracks were ſeen in the Woods, betwixt this Place and Juniata. Some few of the Inhabitants, who had gone to their Plantations on that Creek, to ſow Corn, were attacked by a Party of Indians; one of whom was killed, but on the others returning the Fire, the Indians went off; they carried a Woman with them, that they had taken the Evening before.----On the Firſt of this Month, a Man at Mr. Armſtrong's Plantation, about Half a Mile from this Fort, who went in the Morning to take Care of his Cattle, was fired on, and ſhot thro' the Arm, but did not ſee thoſe who fired on him.----Next Day, about ſix Miles below this Poſt, a Man was killed and ſcalped, his Wife, and four ſmall Children, carried off----Parties followed their Tracks to the Mountain, but there loſt them----This Day, about Eleven o'Clock, one of the Inhabitants came to inform me, that about four Miles down the Creek, that paſſes thro' this Place, three Families were cut off, and their Habitations burnt.----I immediately ſent an Officer with a ſtrong Party, along with a Number of the Inhabitants, armed, to endeavour coming up with the Indians, or to make Diſcoveries. He is juſt returned, and acquaints me, that three Families, conſiſting of 13 Perſons, were killed, their Houſes burnt down, and that ſeveral of the dead Bodies were found in the Ruins, almoſt burnt to Aſhes, which he buried; he afterwards made a large Circuit in the Woods, without diſcovering any Track of the Enemy; but found a few Things that belonged to the Killed, which the Indians had taken away. Some of the Inhabitants are ſtill in Purſuit, but am afraid there is little Probability of Succeſs, as the Tracks were very indiſtinct-------One Lad eſcaped; he ſays the Indian Party was about Twenty; that they fired ſeveral Shot after him; and that he ſaw his Father and Mother knocked down with Tomahawks, before he ran off. Theſe Alarms have intimidated the Inhabitants extremely; they are returning from their Plantations in Crowds to this, and every other little Poſt in the Neighbourhood, in the utmoſt Diſtreſs. I ſhall do every thing in my Power to ſupport them, and alleviate their Miſery."

Several Perſons were likewiſe made Priſoners.

Extract of a Letter from Carliſle, June 9.

"Twice this Week have I had Occaſion to write of the ſundry Depredations committed in this County; the laſt, near Loudoun, was a heavy and bloody Stroke.-----The Enemy, being cloſely purſued, killed their Priſoners on the Flight, to the Number of Six or Seven, then ſcattered, as uſual, and made their Eſcape.-----You will readily gueſs at the preſent Situation of our miſerable and unhappy People, and the piercing Applications I muſt endure from every Quarter, crying for Help."

June 21, 1764. NUMB. 1852.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

The following PIECE is publiſhed by DESIRE.

I THINK it muſt be granted by every one who is well acquainted with Sacred and Prophane Hiſtory, that wherever true Religion and Morality have prevailed, and where the Impious, Unjuſt, and Intemperate have been diſcountenanced, that People, State or Empire grew, and ſtill became more powerful and happy; whereas Calamity and Ruin have ſo invariably followed their general Declenſion to an impious and vicious Courſe, that the latter has, in all Ages, been conſidered as a certain Prognoſtication of the former. He who raiſes up and caſts down whom he pleaſes, has favoured the very Heathen Nations, where Juſtice, Truth, Mercy and Temperance, carried much of the Sway, but increaſed their Calamities, as they grew in Wickedneſs; and at laſt divided, and brought them to Deſolation, when their Sins came to the Height. The Proſperity and Falls of the Jewiſh Church and Kingdom afford us the cleareſt Light in this Affair. Whenever that People adhered to the Laws of their God, they proſpered; but when they offended in Baal, they died. So true is that Proverb of the wiſe Man, Righteouſneſs exalteth a Nation; but Sin is a Reproach to any People.

We ſee then, that although a real Regard to Religion and Virtue ought mainly to influence civil States; yet, beſides this, Self-intereſt calls loudly for their utmoſt Endeavours to promote a Reformation of Manners; and that he is a bad Stateſman, who is a Patronizer of Wickedneſs. Our civil Conſtitution has taken a great deal of pious Care for the Suppreſſion of Vice. We have many very ſalutary Laws, and Magiſtrates appointed to execute them. And, beſides theſe, we have in every County our Grand Juries and Conſtables, who are ſworn Informers by Law. But yet we ſee ſcandalous Vices, ſuch as Drunkenneſs, Uncleanneſs, Curſing, Swearing, Sabbath-breaking, &c. we ſee them openly prevailing in every Quarter, and triumphing with Impunity. And we hear great Numbers complaining that due Care is not taken to ſuppreſs them. But if the Queſtion be, where does the Blame lie? Private Perſons caſt it on Magiſtrates for not puniſhing: Magiſtrates throw it back upon them for not informing; and, I believe, often with great Reaſon: For Magiſtrates cannot act further than their own Knowledge reaches, without Information and Light from others. Thoſe who are ſworn Informers, are too few to obſerve the Behaviour of all. And doubtleſs Magiſtrates, Jury-men, Conſtables, and Perſons of all Characters, ſhould unite their Endeavours to root out ſo dangerous an Enemy as Vice is. Private Chriſtians may be of great Service by their candid Reproofs, Warnings, and giving due Informations to Magiſtrates. But then voluntary Informations are ſo unuſual, that thoſe few who make them, are often looked upon, though undeſervedly, with Indignation and Contempt. They are inſulted, and preſently diſcouraged in their Undertaking. But there is an eaſy Remedy; for if thoſe who complain of and lament the Growth of Vice, would unite together in Societies, and thoſe of different Denominations may readily unite in this, and engage to ſtand by each other in all prudent and lawful Steps taken for the Suppreſſion of thoſe Vices that by the Laws are prohibited, they would then be likely to ſtrike Terror to the Violators of the righteous Laws of GOD, and of their Country, and with the Favour of Heaven, to promote a Reformation of Manners. And would their engaging in ſuch a laudable Undertaking be more than what they are called to by their rightful Sovereign, in his Proclamation, dated October 31, 1760? Would it be more than the Laws of the Land protect them in, and the civil Magiſtrate is obliged to aſſiſt them in? Or would it be more than what, by their Chriſtian Profeſſion and religious Vows, they are obliged to do? They are obliged in Point of Conſcience, in Point of Duty to GOD, of Reverence to Religion, and of Charity to their Neighbours, to inform againſt Vice, that it may be puniſhed and ſuppreſſed. Would this be more than what Numbers of our Brethren in different Parts of the three Kingdoms did in the Reign of William and Mary, who, joining in Societies of this Kind, put a great Stop to Prophanity, and were encouraged by the beſt, and I may add, by ſome of the greateſt in England? And perhaps the Hiſtory of the Proceedings of thoſe Societies would be ſufficient to direct ſuch as incline to engage in the like. But where Men have ſuch plain Laws to walk by, a little Prudence will direct them in forming their Plan of Aſſociation. I may further ſay, that what I am recommending is not more than what many of our Brethren in Maryland, and others in the Jerſies, are now actually engaged in, and that not without Countenance and good Succeſs. I ſhall only add, that if private Perſons, by Reproofs, Warnings, and legal Informations, may greatly help in the Suppreſſion of Vice, and yet connive thereat by their Silence, they encourage it: And as they ſhare in the Crimes committed, ſo they may expect to ſhare in the Judgments which a righteous GOD will inflict for thoſe Crimes.

WHEREAS Application to the Houſe of Repreſentatives of this Province, during their laſt Sitting, hath been made by Petition from a Number of the Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia, for Leave to bring in a Bill to enable the Petitioners to open a new Road from the ſaid City to Briſtol, between the 15th and 19th Mile Stones on the ſaid Road, and build a ſubſtantial Bridge over Neſhaminey Creek, for the better Accommodation of Travellers, and to expedite public Buſineſs to the Northward.---This is to give Notice of the ſaid Application to all Perſons who may conceive their Intereſt or Property concerned in the opening ſaid Road, and building the Bridge aforeſaid, in order that they may have an Opportunity of repreſenting their Objections to the ſame, at the Meeting of the Aſſembly in September next.

ROBERT FEILD PRICE, Sheriff.

FLORENCE, March 20.

HIS Royal Highneſs the Duke of York arrived here on Friday the 16th inſtant in good health. The deſire of his Royal Highneſs to paſs under the title of Earl of Ulſter, deprived this government of ſhewing him thoſe public honours on his entering the town, that were intended. The ſtreets were crouded with people, and particularly that where Sir Horace Mann's houſe ſtands, where his Royal Highneſs condeſcended to lodge. A few minutes after his arrival there, a proper guard was ſent to his door: and the officer who commanded it, being admitted to the Duke's preſence, received his Royal Highneſs's thanks, and the guard was diſmiſſed. Soon after, Marſhal Botta's Aid de Camp was ſent to enquire at what hour the Marſhal and the other Members of the Regency might have the honour of paying their reſpects to the Duke: and the Great Chancellor of Ruſſia ſent the ſame meſſage. His Royal Highneſs anſwered, That he would receive him after he had dined; when they were accordingly introduced to him by Col. St. John and Sir Horace Mann. Marſhal Botta made a compliment to his Royal Highneſs, by order, and in the name of the Emperor, with offers of an apartment in one of his Imperial Majeſty's palaces, his coaches, and every thing that could be for his Royal Highneſs's ſervice and amuſement; which the Duke declined. In the evening many ladies, who, by his Royal Highneſs's permiſſion, had been invited, were preſented, and the aſſembly was very numerous. The next morning the Duke took a tour about the town in his coach, in an undreſs, and called upon Marſhal Botta, who received him at the bottom of the ſtairs. The ſame day his Royal Highneſs admitted all the Engliſh to dine with him; and the day after the Members of the Regency, Foreign Miniſters, &c. The Duke having heard that the Marſhal had ſaid, that out of reſpect he could not take the liberty to invite him to dinner, but was very ambitious of having that honour, his Royal Highneſs ſent him word, that he would dine with him yeſterday, being the feſtival of the Arch-duke. In the evening the Marſhal made a great aſſembly for the ladies, at which his Royal Highneſs aſſiſted.

Edinburgh, April 2. Yeſterday morning the great ſolar eclipſe was obſerved here with great diſtinctneſs. The ſky was remarkably clear and ſerene, and the ſun in full brightneſs, when the eclipſe began, which was about nine minutes after nine in the morning. The middle or greateſt obſcuration, was about 24 minutes after ten, and the eclipſe ended about 7 minutes before 12. During the eclipſe, the thermometer fell 17 degrees and a half. Being expoſed to the ſun before the eclipſe began, it roſe from 65 to 73. At the time of the greateſt obſcuration, it fell to 55 and a half; and at the end of the eclipſe, it roſe again to 61. The Churches did not meet till after eleven.

Cork, April 12. Arrived the Burford, of 64 guns, Capt. Loggie, from Plymouth; ſhe is one of the ſhips deſtined to take on board the troops deſtined for the Weſt-Indies.

LONDON, March 24.

It is with the greateſt ſatisfaction we can aſſure the Public, that, from the great attention our moſt gracious Sovereign has for the good of his ſubjects, the Iſle of Man is ſoon like to be purchaſed of its proprietors, and annexed to the Crown of Great-Britain. We need not remind our readers how often, and in what a variety of ſhapes ſo important a meaſure, both in the Hon. Houſe of Commons, and out of it, has been to no manner of purpoſe recommended for above thirty years paſt, altho' the fatal effects ariſing from this notorious ſeat of ſmuggling have ſo glaringly diſgraced and impoveriſhed the nation.

The Ruſſian Miniſters at Ratiſbon and Hamburgh, are engaging a great number of German Families, Manufacturers, &c. to go and ſettle in the North-eaſt part of Ruſſia; as ſoon as they enter, a Man has 8, a Woman 5, a Child 3 ſchillings, heavy money, allowed them daily for their maintenance, and they are ſent to Lubeck at the Empreſs of Ruſſia's Expence, where they embark for Peterſburgh.

Yeſterday arrived here a Mail from Liſbon, in 16 Days, by which we have advice of the arrival there of 32 Engliſh Ships, all laden with Corn from London.

The new Treaty of Commerce between this Court and Ruſſia is far advanced, and will be, it is ſaid, very advantageous to the two nations——though the Engliſh Colonies of America are now in a condition to furniſh us with many articles which we have a long time imported from the Northern countries.

March 31. It is ſaid as his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York had determined to viſit Rome, the reaſon of his aſſuming only the title of Earl of Ulſter, was to remove every difficulty that might have been raiſed in reſpect to his reception in that city; the Pope having already received the ſecond ſon of the Pretender, under the title of Cardinal York.

About three weeks ago an officer of the regiment of Champagne being at Maſs at Douay in French Flanders, a burgher happened to tread upon his dog, which ſo exaſperated the officer, that he beat the man ſeverely; and, on his making reſiſtance, killed him on the ſpot. This outrage ſo incenſed the Inhabitants, that they gathered about the houſe where the officer lodged, demoliſhed the windows, ſeiz'd his baggage, and threw it out into the ſtreet; broke his poſt-chaiſe, and ham-ſtring'd his horſes, and afterwards fell upon the officer, and dragg'd him through the kennel, till he died. The officers on duty taking the alarm, beat to arms, ſecured all the gates, fir'd upon the townſmen, and killed nine, wounded many more, and ſoon diſperſed the reſt. This affair being properly repreſented, is now under conſideration at court, and it is thought the Regiment will be broke.

The diſtemper among the horned cattle has very much abated, which has been effected by hanging four or five onions about the beaſt's neck directly after they are taken ill, and will not eat. Thoſe onions draw the infection out, and look the next day as if they had been boiled. This remedy is to be repeated ſeveral times, and the onions which have been uſed, are to be buried in a deep hole. In a few days after, the cattle are taken with a running at the noſe, which carries off that diſtemper: It is alſo proper at that time to hang up ſome onions in the diſtemper'd cattle's ſtables.

A married woman in Portugal having conceived an affection for a married man in her own neighbourhood, and reſolving to marry him, murdered her own huſband and children, and perſuaded the man to do the ſame; but he refuſed to do that, conſented, however, to lie with her; when having watched him to ſleep, ſhe murdered him alſo, for which ſhe was tried, condemned, and executed.

April 7. On Wedneſday evening the thanks of the Society of Arts, &c. in the Strand, were given to Lord Southwell, for communicating a piece of handkerchief, made by ſome of our American Indians, of a weed called Silk Graſs. A manufacture, the ingenuity of which was very much admired.

April 10. Yeſterday morning ſeveral thouſand journeymen ſilk weavers went in proceſſion from Spittalfields, and waited on his Majeſty at the Queen's Palace in St. James's-Park, with a petition, repreſenting the miſerable condition to which themſelves and families are reduced, by the clandeſtine importation of French ſilks. They waited before the Court-yard, and two Gentlemen, belonging to the ſaid manufactory, had the honour to be introduced to his Majeſty's preſence, and preſent their petition, which his Majeſty received in the moſt gracious manner, and gave for anſwer, That they might depend on his care and protection. As they went along they diſtributed a great number of the following hand-bills:

To the PUBLIC.

'The policy of our natural enemies the French is of late become ſo prevalent in this kingdom, encouraged and ſupported by many baſe artifices amongſt his Majeſty's ſubjects dwelling in theſe kingdoms, that the ſilk manufactory, of ſuch conſequence to this nation, in all probability is at the brink of ruin, by the encouragement given to our once perfidious enemies, in buying and expoſing to ſale, and conſuming the produce of their manufactories, and by ſuch illicit practices hundreds of us, who have ſerved his Majeſty in the late war by ſea and land, together with helpleſs families, are out of employ, and reduced to the loweſt ebb, therefore are under the indiſpenſible obligation of taking this ſtep in preſenting a moſt humble petition to his moſt ſacred Majeſty, that he will be moſt graciouſly pleaſed to order a ſpeedy enquiry into the decay of a manufactory ſo valuable and extenſive in its various branches, and of ſuch conſequence to his Majeſty's revenues, and the nation in general: At the ſame time we moſt humbly hope for the approbation of every well wiſher to his moſt ſacred Majeſty, our country, and happy conſtitution, and beg leave to ſubſcribe ourſelves yours,

'The Journeymen Silk-Weavers.'

On the 22d ult. the Parliament of Rouen iſſued an arret, enjoining all Jeſuits within their juriſdiction to depart the kingdom of France within the ſpace of one month, unleſs they could prove their having abandoned the Society before the 12th of February 1762, or their having taken the oaths preſcribed before the 22d of March 1764, even if they ſhould offer to take them now. In caſe of old age or infirmity, application ſhall be made to the Clerk of the Parliament.

April 14.

Letters from Franckfort of the 3d inſt. aſſert, that two quarrels had like to have happened there, which might have been of bad conſequence, had not the College of Princes interfered: one of them was between the Electors of Treves and Cologne, about their rank and precedency; and the other was between a party of the Elector of Mentz's dragoons, who conducted the regalia from Nurenburgh, and the burghers of Francfort, who were upon duty at the gates, the former refuſing to deliver up the crown, ſcepter, and globe, till they were admitted into the city, and the latter denied them entrance, it being againſt their privilege.

Extract of a letter from Francfort, April 4.

"Yeſterday the ſolemnity of the Coronation of the King of the Romans was performed here with the uſual ceremonies, and with great dignity and order. The three Eccleſiaſtical Electors and the Electoral Ambaſſadors, all in mantles adorned with gold lace, went to the Dome between nine and ten in the morning. The Emperor and the King of the Romans, preceded by a numerous train repaired thither an hour after. Their Majeſties were received at the gate by their Electoral Highneſſes, the Trabans of Saxony being poſted as a guard there. The church was hung with rich tapeſtry, repreſenting the great actions of the Emperors of the Auguſt Houſe of Auſtria. Before the gate of the choir was an altar richly adorned; on the right hand of which the Emperor's throne; on the left, that of the Elector; and oppoſite, that of the King of the Romans. The ſeats of the two other Electors, and for the Plenipotentiaries, were ranged about in a half circle. The Coronation was performed by his Electoral Highneſs of Mentz, with the ceremonies preſcribed by the Golden Bull.

"Towards two in the Afternoon, the Emperor and the King of the Romans quitted the church, and, according to cuſtom, returned on foot, under a ſuperb canopy, to Romerberg; and during the proceſſion 300 pieces of cannon were fired. The new King was clothed with the ornaments of Royalty, the crown upon his head, ſcepter in his hand, and antique ſlippers, covered with pearls, on his feet. Being arrived at the Hotel-de-Villie, their Majeſties ſat down to table, and were ſerved by the reſpective Repreſentatives of the Electors, and by the other great Officers of the Empire, each performing the functions of his poſt. At the end of the repaſt, they went to one of the windows of the great hall to ſee the gold and ſilver medals thrown amongſt the people; and at ſeven in the evening they returned to their palaces.

"This day the new King of the Romans received the compliments of an infinite number of perſons of diſtinction.

"The Elector Palatine is juſt arrived here to pay his reſpects to the Chief of the Empire, and to congratulate the Archduke Joſeph on his elevation to the dignity of King of the Romans."

The diſtinguiſhed honours paid to Achmet Effendi at the Court of Berlin, and the frequent couriers that paſs and re-paſs between that city and the Ottoman Porte, begin to diffuſe a certain degree of anxiety into the minds of the Miniſters at Vienna, and even to diſturb the tranquility of her Imperial Majeſty. This anxiety has been increaſed by news received from Holland of a remittance of four millions of florins, ſent by his Pruſſian Majeſty to Conſtantinople, by the way of Amſterdam. This remittance cannot be ſuppoſed to have any relation to the affairs of Poland, ſince it is ſaid, that the Courts of Peterſburgh and Berlin have already taken ſufficient meaſures, in conjunction, to fix that crown upon the head of the Count Poniatowſki. It is therefore imagined that theſe four millions are not deſigned to buy coffee and ſherbet, but have ſome object more alarming to thoſe that lie within the reach of his Ottoman Highneſs. Achmet Effendi is charmed with the manners, as well as dazzled with the glory of his Pruſſian Majeſty, and finds ſomething truly oriental in them.

CHARLES-TOWN (in South-Carolina) May 23.

On Friday laſt an expreſs to his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, from Col. Thomas Middleton, at Port-Royal, brought accounts which had been received by the Colonel, from Captain Lazarus Brown, that one Bennefield, a ſettler, about 9 miles above the forks of Long-Canes, was murdered at his own plantation by two Creek Indians, on Tueſday the firſt inſt. and the ſame day an expreſs came in to John Stuart, Eſq; from the Cherokee Country, with advice of one of the murderers being taken, and on his way to Charles-Town. It appears that the two Creeks came to Bennefield's houſe, pretended to be Cherokees, behaved as friends, and aſſiſted him for good part of the day in his farming work; a neighbour of his, named Gunnel, was likewiſe with him. Towards the evening, when Bennefield's back was turned, one of the Indians ſtruck him with an ax, and brought him to the ground: Gunnel and Bennefield's wife, with two children, ran off, crying for help. The unfortunate Bennefield languiſhed till the third day, when he died. About the 5th inſt. the two murderers, at a ball-play in the lower Cherokee Country, boaſting of their late exploit, were both ſeized by Salloue, or the Young Warrior of Eſtatoe, who ſet off with them for Fort Prince-George; one of them made his eſcape before they reached the fort, but the other was delivered to Mr. Price the Commandant, who ſent him down to town, where he arrived on Saturday; and on Monday was examined before a magiſtrate, who committed him to the common goal, there to remain till next General Seſſions, when he is to be tried for the murder, of which, we are informed, there is ſufficient evidence to convict him. Salloue, who was during all the late war an open and profeſſed enemy, has ſhewn himſelf ſince the peace a true friend to the Engliſh, of which this laſt affair is a very ſtriking proof: In his talk addreſſed to John Stuart, Eſq; Superintendant, &c. he expreſſes the ſtrongeſt attachment to the Engliſh his eldeſt brothers, and doubts not of their aſſiſting him againſt the Creeks, who have murdered both Engliſh and Cherokees. He is gone out in ſearch of the murderer that made his eſcape.

BOSTON, June 11.

The Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD preached his farewel Sermon laſt Wedneſday, at the Old South Meeting Houſe, and the Day following he ſet out on his Journey to the Southward: The Notice he gave of his Departure was ſudden; and it was the more affecting to his Friends, as there is but little Reaſon to expect he will have an Oportunity of making another Viſit here. His Lectures have been attended by Perſons of Figure and Rank, as well as others; and in the Opinion of thoſe of his Hearers who are allowed to be the beſt Judges, they have been adapted to promote the common Cauſe of Chriſtianity: His Auditories have been conſtantly numerous, attentive and very affected; which affords Reaſon to believe that his Preaching has been greatly ſucceſsful: He has been aſſiduous in his Labours among us, notwithſtanding his bodily Infirmities; and as he ſtill appears to be influenced, in his general Deſign, by a benevolent Diſpoſition towards Mankind, it would be hardly doing Juſtice to the Town, not to add, that during his ſhort Reſidence in it, the Inhabitants have ſhewn him peculiar Marks of their Affection and Eſteem.

PROVIDENCE, June 9.

Laſt Evening the Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD came to Town from Boſton, and this Day (after delivering a Sermon at the Rev. Mr. Snow's Church) ſet out for the Southward.

June 11. Tueſday laſt Capt. Larcher, in the Sloop Windſor, arrived here from the Grenades; but having had a long Paſſage, brings nothing new from thence. He informs, that in his outward bound Paſſage, he took up a Man at Sea, who belonged to a Veſſel commanded by one George Allen, bound from Cape-fear to Barbados, having by ſome Accident fallen overboard: He had been in the Water near an Hour and a Half, during which Time his Capt. never put the Veſſel about, or took any other Pains for his Preſervation, than throwing an old Barrel after him, depending on Capt. Larcher's coming up, who, at that Time was at leaſt two Leagues a-ſtern, by which inhuman Neglect, the poor Fellow was ſo far ſpent when he was taken up, that it was with the utmoſt Difficulty his Life was preſerved.---[Maſters of Veſſels cannot take too much Pains in ſaving the Lives of their People, when under ſuch unfortunate Circumſtances; yet, there is much Reaſon to fear there are ſome, who through Negligence, or too great a Regard for their own Intereſt, omit diſcharging ſuch Offices of Humanity in the Manner they ought, by which, no doubt, ſome periſh, who might be ſaved, if proper Meaſures were taken, as this recent Inſtance may ſerve to demonſtrate.]

NEWPORT, June 11.

Capt. Doggat, in his Paſſage from Antigua, ſpoke with the Brig Grace, Capt. Thomas Stevens, belonging to Philadelphia, the 25th ult. in Lat. 35, Long. 72, from Cape Fear, bound to London; all well.

NEW-YORK, June 18.

On Monday Evening laſt, the NEW-YORK LIGHT-HOUSE, erected at Sandy-Hook, was lighted for the firſt Time. The Houſe is of an Octagon Figure, having eight equal Sides; the Diameter at the Baſe, 29 Feet; and at the Top of the Wall, 15 Feet. The Lanthorn is 7 Feet high; the Circumference 33 Feet. The whole Conſtruction of the Lanthorn is Iron; the Top covered with Copper. There are 48 Oil Blazes. The Building from the Surface is Nine Stories; the whole from Bottom to Top 103 Feet. This Structure, was undertaken by Mr. Iſaac Conro, of this City, and was carried on with all the Expedition that the Difficulty attending to and fro on the Occaſion could poſſibly admit of; and is judged to be maſterly finiſhed.

Saturday laſt, the Coventry Frigate, Archibald Kennedy, Eſq; Commander, ſailed for Halifax.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.

In ASSEMBLY, Thurſday, May 24, 1764. A. M.

The Governor, by Mr. Secretary, ſent down to the Houſe three Petitions, addreſſed to himſelf and the Aſſembly, from a Number of Inhabitants of the Counties of Lancaſter, York and Northampton, praying Redreſs of the Grievances ſet forth in the ſaid Petitions, and the Remonſtrance of Matthew Smith, and James Gibſon, preſented in February laſt.

A Petition from the Inhabitants of Paxton Townſhip, in the County of Lancaſter, and another from the County of Cumberland, were alſo laid before the Houſe by their reſpective Members, and ſeverally read; the former praying the Houſe will take into Conſideration, and redreſs, during their preſent Sitting, the Grievances complained of in a Petition to the Governor ſome time ſince preſented; the latter ſuch Grievances as are ſet forth in their Petition of the Twenty-third of March laſt.

Ordered,

That Mr. Galloway, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Rodman, Mr. Morton, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Roſs, and Mr. Tool, be a Committee to conſider, and report to the Houſe, at their next Meeting, the Matter of the ſeveral Petitions this Day laid before them; alſo of the Remonſtrance of Matthew Smith, and James Gibſon, the Cumberland Petition preſented on the 23d of March laſt, and any other previous Petitions of the ſame Nature now before the Houſe.

Extract from the Journals,

CHARLES MOORE, Clerk of Aſſembly.

On Saturday laſt the Miniſters, Church-Wardens and Veſtry of the united Congregations of CHRIST-CHURCH and St. PETER'S, in this City, waited on the Reverend Mr. RICHARD PETERS, and delivered him the following Addreſs.

To the Reverend Mr. RICHARD PETERS, Rector of the united Churches of Chriſt-Church and St. Peter's, in the City of Philadelphia.

REVEREND SIR,

WE the Miniſters, Church-Wardens and Veſtry of the united Congregations of Chriſt-Church and St. Peter's, cannot ſuffer the preſent Opportunity of your Departure for England to paſs without teſtifying the grateful and affectionate Senſe, which we muſt ever retain, of your long and faithful Services to our Churches in this City, both before and ſince your Appointment to the Rectory of theſe Congregations.

The Prudence of your Conduct, your Liberality, Piety, and other good Qualities, have endeared you to us: We ſhall not therefore ceaſe to offer up our ſincere Prayers to Heaven, that you may be preſerved from the Danger of the Seas, reſtored in your Health, and ſpeedily returned to the Exerciſe of your Miniſtry amongſt us.

Signed, by Order of Veſtry,

CHARLES STEDMAN,) Church-EDWARD DUFFIELD,) Wardens.

June 16, 1764.

To which the RECTOR was pleaſed to make the following Anſwer.

My dear Fellow Labourers in CHRIST, and you Gentlemen of the VESTRY,

THE Affection expreſſed in your kind Addreſs, fills my Breaſt with the tendereſt Senſibility. Could the bad State of my Health, or my Engagements to an abſent Branch of my Family, have permitted, I would never have ſuffered the Pain I now feel at the Approach of my Separation from you. And I do aſſure you, that it is my full Purpoſe, with the Divine Permiſſion, to return to you at the Cloſe of the next Summer. Even this Abſence, though as ſhort as it poſſibly can be, will appear tedious to me.—Continue in the agreeable Harmony and Affection in which I leave you: Be perfect: Be of good Comfort: Be of one Mind: Live in Peace: And may the GOD of Love and Peace be with you!"

On Sunday the Reverend Mr. PETERS took an affectionate Leave of his Congregations at CHRIST-CHURCH: And on Monday Morning ſet out for New-Caſtle, in order to embark for England.

Our Advices from Carliſle of the 11th Inſtant are, That the Diſtreſs in the upper Parts of that County increaſed daily, the Indians being often heard yelling and hallooing, in their frightful Manner, among the Hills, and through the Settlements, diſperſed in ſmall Parties of two or three together; that they had fired at ſeveral of our People; and ſome of them were ſeen not far from Fort Loudoun: That the Country was evacuated intirely (excepting two or three Families) from Shippenſburgh to Loudoun: And that from the Frontiers of Virginia, all their Accounts were moſt melancholy, reſpecting the miſerable Situation of the Inhabitants there, from the Barbarity of the Enemy.

And by a Gentleman from Cumberland County, ſince the above Date, we are informed, that Captain Lewis, with a Party, purſued, and came up with, the Enemy, who lately did ſo much Miſchief in Auguſta County, Virginia, when he engaged them, killed a Frenchman, and two Indians, and retook ſome of our People they had Priſoners; who told him, that the Frenchman ſlain commanded the Party; that there was another Frenchman with them; and that from the Twenty-ſecond of laſt Month there had been One Hundred People killed or carried off by the Indians, belonging to the Government of Virginia---He alſo informed us, that Crow's Wife (mentioned in our laſt to be taken by the Enemy) had eſcaped from the Indians, and was returned; and ſaid the Indians that took her and Children were only Three, tho' their Party did conſiſt of Five, but they imagined the other two to be killed, as they had not ſeen them for ſome Time: That two of our Soldiers, in Shearman's Valley, ſaw two Indians making a Blind on the Road with Buſhes, in order to lie behind it; that one of them ſeeing our People, got behind a Tree, but the other not perceiving the Soldiers, one of them had a fair Shot at him, and imagined he ſhot him thro' the Body; upon which they went to their Officer, and told him what had happened, who ſent a Party to the Place, where they found a great Deal of Blood, and a Bit of Fat, ſuppoſed to come out with the Ball.

TO be sold by Way of publick Vendue, at the House of Andrew Hook, in Kensington, on Saturday, the 23d inst. June, A Lot of Land, in Kensington, containing 65 Feet on the River Delaware, and about 150 Feet on Warren-street, where Attendance will be given by John Hays, at 2 o'Clock in the Afternoon, who has full Power to sell and make an indisputable Title for the same. ‡

FOR the Conveniency of all Gentlemen and Ladies that incline to travel by Land rather than by Water, A STAGE WAGGON is kept by JOHN BUCKINGHAM, at the Sign of the Coach and Horses in Race and Third Streets, Philadelphia, and will begin on Wednesday, the 20th Instant, to proceed to Dunks's Ferry, and JOHN BUTLER, of Bordentown, will also meet with another Waggon at the said Ferry, and change Loads, both returning to Philadelphia and Bordentown the same Day, the next Day being the common Stage Day at Bordentown (Sunday excepted) from whence the Passengers will proceed to Perth-Amboy as usual; from and after the said 20th Instant the said Stage Waggons will set out from Philadelphia and Bordentown every Wednesday and Saturday, so that any Number of Passengers that travel by Bordentown Stages from New-York or Philadelphia, not exceeding what one Waggon can carry, may have their Choice to go from Bordentown to Philadelphia, or from Philadelphia to Bordentown by Land, and as many as please by Water: Our best Endeavours shall not be wanting to give Ease and Dispatch to Passengers.

JOHN BUCKINGHAM,
JOHN BUTLER, jun.

N. B. Those Gentlemen and Ladies that please to favour us with their Custom, are desired to send their heavy Baggage by the Bordentown Boats, as they will then have them under their own Care on the Roads to Amboy.

THE Members of the Association Library Company, are desired to meet at their Library Room on Monday, the 25th Inst. at 3 o'Clock in the Afternoon, to agree, if they think it necessary, to an Article whereby more Members may be admitted, the Number fixed by their present Constitution being compleat; and to determine whether some Proposals then to be laid before them will be of Advantage to the Library.

By Order of the Directors,
℗ NATHANIEL LEWIS, Secretary.

Philadelphia, June 11, 1764.

RUN away last Night from the Snow Pitt, two Servant Men; the one named Patrick Thompson, remarkable for a Hair Lip, and a great Stoppage in his Speech, bred a Tallow-chandler, about 24 Years of Age, fair Complexion, 5 Feet 10 Inches high; had on a light coloured Coat, and a short brown Wig. The other named William Donnavan, of a dark Complexion, wears his own Hair tied behind; had on a blue Cloth Coat and white Shirt; about 5 Feet 6 Inches high, 28 Years of Age. It is probable they may take the Road to New-York, as Thompson said he had some Relations there. Whoever takes up and secures both or either of said Servants, shall have Forty Shillings Reward for each, with reasonable Charges, paid by Captain Baily, on board the Snow off Market-street Wharff, or by ¶ CONYNGHAM and NESBITT.

THE MEMBERS of the UNION LIBRARY COMPANY of PHILADELPHIA, are desired to attend at their new Library in Third-street, on the 2d of July next, at 3 o'Clock in the Afternoon, to consider whether certain Laws now in Force, should not be repealed, and such others enacted as may be thought proper by the Company. By Order of the Directors,

℗ WILLIAM MORRIS, jun. Secretary.

Philadelphia, May 28, 1764.

RUN-AWAY from the New-Ferry, A Negroe Man, named London, about 5 Feet 3 Inches high, Barbados born: Had on when he went away, a striped Holland Jacket, striped trowsers, Ozenbrigs Shirt, a coarse Hat, cock'd, with a white Button, good Shoes and Stockings; he is very apt to hire himself on board of Vessels, in order to make his Escape. Whoever takes up said Negroe, or informs his said Master of any Person that has hired him, shall receive Eight Dollars from ℗ SAMUEL AUSTIN, at the New-Ferry.

STOLEN from George Ashbridge, in Goshen, Chester County, in the Night between the Fourth and Fifth of this Instant, a large brownish bay Horse, about 8 Years old, branded G. A. on the near Shoulder, commonly used for riding, both paces and trots. Whoever takes up the Horse, and Thief, so that the Thief may be brought to Justice, shall have Five Pounds Reward, or Forty Shillings for the Horse only, paid by GEORGE ASHBRIDGE. ¶

STrayed away from Ephraim Smith's Stable, on the 16th of April, a bay Horse, about 14 Hands and a Half high, six Years old this Spring, has a dull small Star in his Forehead, the Crest, with the Mane, hangs to the Off-side, a short switch Tail, a natural Pacer, goes heavy, no Brand. Whoever takes up the said Horse, shall have Twenty Shillings Reward, and reasonable Charges, paid by said Smith, near the Draw-bridge, Philadelphia. ℗

TO be sold by publick Vendue, The Land called and known by the Name of the Poole Forge Lands, situate on Maxatawny Creek, in the County of Berks, containing 600 Acres, more or less. The Sale to be held on the 26th of September, if fair, if not the next fair Day, at the House of Conrad Stein's, at the Sign of the Panther, in Pows's Grove, to begin at 12 o'Clock, where Attendance will be given. Tbetf.

REEDY-ISLAND STAGE-BOAT now leaves Philadelphia every Wednesday, and proceeds to Jacob Gooding's Landing, at Reedy-Island, where there is a good Wharff and Store, for the Reception of Goods, and good Accommodations for Passengers; from thence a Waggon goes every Friday and Saturday to Frederick-town, in Maryland, where a Stage-boat, kept by Mr. John M'Duff, sets off for Annapolis, in Maryland, every Saturday Evening, and returns to Frederick-town on Thursdays; the Reedy-Island Stage boat leaves Gooding's Wharff for Philadelphia every Saturday Afternoon. There is scarce 20 Miles of Land Carriage between Reedy-Island and Frederick-town, the Road exceeding good, and the Rates of each Carriage will be low; Goods will be sent with Care and Dispatch to almost any Part of Maryland, as low as from the Heads of the Creeks. As every one that knows the Situation of Reedy-Island, and Frederick-town, must be convinced this is the most convenient certain Communication yet established between the two Bays, doubt not it will meet with Encouragement. Great Care will be taken (by the Subscribers) that both Boats and Waggons shall be well and carefully attended.

ALL Perſons having Demands againſt the Eſtate of William Smith, deceaſed, are deſired to ſend in their Accounts to the Subſcriber; and thoſe that are indebted, are deſired to pay.

WILLIAM SMITH, Adminiſtrator.

Charles-Town, in South-Carolina, May 9.

WE hear ſeveral Planters in this province have gone this year upon raiſing hemp; and as experience has ſhewn that no place in the world is more proper for it, there is good reaſon to hope it will ſoon become a valuable and important article in our exports. The bounty given by this government is upwards of ten ſhillings ſterling the hundred weight.

May 16. On Friday laſt his Excellency Thomas Boone, Eſq; Governor in chief of this province, went on board the barge belonging to his Majeſty's ſhip Eſcorte, commanded by Thomas Foley, Eſq; which carried him over the Bar, where he embarked on board the ſhip Dorſet, Chriſtopher Chiſman, maſter, and ſailed the ſame evening for England. His Excellency was attended to the water ſide by his Honour the Lieutenant Governor, the members of his Majeſty's Honourable Council, &c. and at his ſetting off was ſaluted by the guns in the forts, baſtions and ramparts of Charleſtown; his Excellency was likewiſe ſaluted on his paſſing the garriſon of Fort Johnſon.

The laſt letters from the country of the upper and lower Creek Indians, are dated April 20th, and inform us, that thoſe Indians have behaved remarkably well to the traders this ſpring; they had received ſome talks from the commanding officer at Penſacola, and Mobille, which agreeing with thoſe from the Superintendant, had been received very cordially. The famous Mortar, headman of the Oakchoys, was returned to the nation, and ſeemed very well diſpoſed, and deſires his people to hold faſt by the Engliſh, as the only perſons that are able to ſupply their wants, ſo that our affairs in thoſe parts ſeem to carry a better appearance than they have done for ſome time. A vile incendiary, nick-named Boatſwain, a half-breed ſon of a trader, and a trader himſelf, had, by the moſt groſs and impudent falſhhoods, attempted to create a diſturbance among the Creeks, and to ſet them upon the white people, but his machinations being happily detected, had proved abortive.

From the Chactaw and Chickeſaw country we learn, thoſe Indians are upon very good terms with each other. The Chickeſaws, agreeable to their conſtant and tried attachment to the Britiſh intereſt, are very willing to make war on the Creeks, if deſired; and our new allies the Chactaws make the ſame profeſſions, perhaps to convince us of the reality of their friendſhip. The Creeks are very ſenſible of all this, whence we may ſafely credit the accounts of their apparently good diſpoſitions towards us, and at the ſame time promiſe ourſelves, that a ſteady adherence to the late meaſures regarding Indian affairs, will continue to produce ſome good effects already experienced.

Advices from the Cherokee country, of the 22d paſt, ſay, that ſome of the ſtories raiſed by the above mentioned Boatſwain, had reached that country, and had occaſioned great uneaſineſs, in ſo much that the lower and middle towns people were on the point of abandoning their ſettlements, but happily the falſhood of thoſe reports was diſcovered. Tuſkegetche had a few days before carried a Creek ſcalp into Settiquo, and the Chickeſaw of Toquo was gone out with a party againſt the Creeks, to revenge the death of a relation. All the Cherokee headmen continue to give the ſtrongeſt aſſurances of their attachment to the Britiſh nation and intereſt. They have heard nothing from the parties which, at the requeſt of Capt. Stuart, the ſuperintendant, went againſt the northern tribes now at open war with us, ſince they ſet out, but hope they will do ſomething worthy of that gentleman's thanks and approbation, as well as their own countrymen. The Cherokees ſtill continue to ſollicit ſtrongly for an open trade; their northern enemies are frequently amongſt them, and they complain much of the hardſhip of being obliged to travel 150 miles to purchaſe a pound of powder or ſhot to defend themſelves, or to kill deer for their ſubſiſtance.

A number of our faithful friends the Chickeſaws, were lately at Mobille, who, beſides what was given to them by the commanding officer, received ſome very handſome preſents from the Britiſh traders ſettled there.

Yeſterday John Stuart, Eſq; his Majeſty's agent for, and ſuperintendant of, Indian affairs in the ſouthern diſtrict of North America, ſet out for Eaſt and Weſt Florida, in order to viſit the ſeveral Indian nations in thoſe countries, &c.

May 23.

Particulars of Major LOFTUS's Expedition.

Major Loftus, commanding the 22d regiment, who ſailed from Penſacola, in order to take poſſeſſion of the Illinois, arrived ſafe at New-Orleans, and ſailed from thence the 27th of February laſt, together with a detachment of the 34th regiment, which had been employed in reconnoitering the river Iberville, towards clearing the navigation, and was to examine the ſtate of the fort at Natchez. The whole, conſiſting of about 400 men, were embarked in ten large battoes from 16 to 22 oars, and two large canoes of ſix oars, which rowed from three to four leagues a-day againſt the ſtrong current of the Miſſiſippi till the 20th of March, when, at nine o'clock in the morning, being under the Rock of Davion, the firſt high lands on the ſaid river, and about eighty leagues above New-Orleans, the two canoes being a little a-head of Major Loftus's battoe, and cloſe to the weſtern ſhore, which was covered with bruſh, received a volley, by which, in the firſt battoe, one private man was wounded, and three private killed; in the other, one ſergeant and three private wounded, and two private killed. The boats going back with the ſtream, and no poſſibility of landing on the weſt ſide, the river having overflowed its banks, inclined the Major to the oppoſite or eaſtern ſhore, which being obſerved by the Indians on that ſide, they fired, at a great diſtance, about 100 ſhot at the firſt fire. The commanding officer, ſeeing both ſides ſo ſtrongly guarded, and the river narrow, returned with the ſtream, and propoſed to take poſt at the point of Iberville, which is ſaid to be of equal Importance with the Illinois. The next morning early they arrived at Iberville; and a Capt. of the 24th with a party, and Lieut. Pitman, the Engineer, went aſhore to reconnoitre, and propoſed to clear the point, which the Major on his arrival agreed to. After two hours ſtay a council was called, and it was carried by the majority for the troops to return from whence they ſet out, and the whole arrived next day at New-Orleans, where Major Loftus meeting with an Engliſh brigantine, went in her to Penſacola, and left the reſt of the regiment, with the battoes, at Belize. A Captain, the Engineer, and twenty men of the 22d regiment, prepared to proceed to Mobille, when M. D'Abbadie, Governor of New-Orleans, was informed that 60 Indians, from the eaſt ſide of Lake Ponchartrain, intended to intercept their battoe in the Narrows, between the ſaid lake and the bay of St. Lewis; on which the Britiſh officer repreſented to the French Governor, that Major Loftus had departed full of ſuſpicion of his having ſpirited up the Indians to ſtop his voyage, and that if any accident ſhould now happen to the party then going to Mobille, that ſuſpicion muſt be confirmed, and that he (the Britiſh officer) would look on any attack by the Indians (whom he knew to be moſt ſubmiſſive to the French) as an aſſaſſination: The Governor immediately replied, That he would ſend an officer with a detachment to eſcort them; this was declined, and an interpreter only demanded, one acquainted with the Indians, and their lurking places, who ſhould aſſure them that the Engliſh deſired to live in peace and friendſhip with them, and would behave to them as brethren. The party arrived ſafe at Mobille on the 5th of April, without any accident, or ſeeing an enemy. M. D'Abbadie called God to witneſs, that he had no hand in adviſing or ſpiriting up the Indians to prevent the Engliſh from taking poſſeſſion of the forts ceded to them by the late treaty; and added, that he had given many proofs, both at Mobille and New-Orleans, of his ſtrong deſire to maintain peace and harmony between the two crowns, and that this was agreeable to the orders he had received from the King his Maſter; and to convince the world of the truth of what he ſaid, he requeſted the Engliſh Captain that was to have taken poſt at Fort Natchez, to remain a few days at New-Orleans, and he would ſend for the Indian chiefs, and make them friends with the Engliſh, by taking them by the hand, and giving them ſome preſents; and would engage they would not only permit the detachment to paſs unmoleſted, but conduct them ſafe to Natchez; and afford them all the aſſiſtance in their power to eſtabliſh them there. The Captain reſolved to accept the offer, if agreeable to his commanding officer, who declined it till he ſhould receive the General's orders.

It is ſaid the Indians that attacked Major Loftus, were the Tonikas, Oumas, Chittimaſhaws and Yahoos, ſmall tribes inhabiting the ſhores of the Miſſiſippi, from eight leagues below Iberville to about ſeventeen leagues above it. The whole number of warriors in all theſe tribes is about 150. The French at New-Orleans ſay the Oumas, who have 40 warriors, were not at the attack, and ſay they ſuſpect the Chactaws. Some letters ſay, the number of Indians, who attacked, was fifty.

By letters from London, we are informed, that the duties collected at the Havannah, while it was in the poſſeſſion of the Engliſh, being for his Majeſty's uſe, are actually paid into the Exchequer, to be applied to the public ſervice. The whole ſum amounted to about 180,000 dollars.

On Thurſday laſt arrived here from Plymouth, in the ſhip Friendſhip, Capt. Perkins, one hundred and thirty-one French Proteſtants, from the country about Bourdeaux and Montpelier. They were ſupported when in England from his Majeſty's privy purſe. Among them are ſeveral tradeſmen of different kinds, and two paſtors or miniſters, ſome ſchoolmaſters, &c. and, we hear, they are recommended by the King to the legiſlature of this province, to be eſtabliſhed in a body.

The application to parliament, for liberty to export rice from this province directly to Madeira, the Canary Iſlands, &c. we are told, is likely to ſucceed, Charles Garth, Eſq; our provincial agent, continuing indefatigable.

The Shawaneſe and Delaware Indians are driven off from all the branches of the Saſquehannah, and are fled to the plains of Scioto and Muſkingham, and if they are further purſued, give out, that they will retire among the Cherokees; but from the wholſome meaſures lately purſued, there is reaſon to hope they will meet with no protection there.

Both Engliſh and Spaniſh governors in the Weſt-Indies ſeem reſolved to prevent all contraband trade between the ſubjects of their reſpective ſovereigns; we hear of great ſtrictneſs, ſeizures, &c. at Cuba, and of a Spaniſh veſſel being ſeized in one of the Engliſh iſlands.

St. Jago de la Vega, in Jamaica, March 17.

On Monday evening laſt, about 10 o'Clock, as Mr. Francis Smart, at Paſſage Fort, was waſhing himſelf, he was ſuddenly ſeized by an alligator, about 10 feet long, which faſtened upon his thigh, and endeavoured to drag him into deep water, but he, through a quick preſence of mind, running his hand down the alligator's throat, and faſtening upon ſome of the entrails, ſaved himſelf from being deſtroyed until aſſiſtance was brought him, and he got into a wherry; notwithſtanding which, ſo voracious was this creature become by taſting his blood, that he endeavoured to ſeize him again in the wherry, and even got his fore feet upon the ſide of the ſame; however, Mr. Smart, with ſome aſſiſtance, eſcaped from him, but was very much hurt in his thigh and arm, but is now in a fine way of doing well.

On Tueſday laſt, at a Court of Oyer and Terminer, held in the town of Kingſton, before the Hon. Thomas Gordon, Eſq; Preſident, was tried Thomas Stevenſon, for an act of piracy, commited on the high ſeas: After a long trial, the jury withdrew for about half an hour, and brought in their verdict guilty; but ſtrongly recommended the priſoner as an object of mercy; upon which his Honour the Judge made a very moving ſpeech to the unhappy man, wherein he exhorted him to prepare for a future ſtate, and not deceive himſelf with the fond hopes of eſcaping that heavy ſentence which he was ſhortly to paſs upon him, but to uſe the few moments he might be allowed, to make his peace with GOD; and then in a moſt ſolemn manner pronounced ſentence of death upon him.

And on Wedneſday was tried Nicholas Kernon, mate of the Yorkſhire Hunter, before the ſaid gentleman, Preſident, for an act of piracy, committed near Salt River, when after a long trial, the jury withdrawing, brought in their verdict, guilty, recommending him alſo to mercy: After which the Judge made a very moving ſpeech, and pronounced ſentence of death upon him.

ANNAPOLIS, June 14.

We are informed by the Virginia Rider, That an Expreſs came laſt Thurſday to Col. Fairfax, from Winchester, with an Account, that on the Friday before, Six or Seven Families were cut off by the Indians at Cedar-Creek, which he ſays is not above 7 or 8 Miles from that Town: And a Man driving a Carriage loaded with Liquors and ſome Dry Goods, from Alexandria, for the South Branch, having a Negroe Lad with him, was killed by the Enemy, and the Lad taken Priſoner. There was a Draught made out of the Militia at Cameron laſt Saturday, to go to the Frontier; and another larger Draught was to be made on Tuſeday laſt from a General Muſter, for the ſame Purpoſe.

Laſt Thurſday Noon, one Balſar Wall, a German, Butcher, of this Place, having a Horſe who had ſlipp'd his Shoulder, not knowing how to ſwim himſelf, very imprudently went into the River from a Point in this Town, to ſwim him as long as he could ſwim, in order to cure him: Poor Man, he compleated both; being very unhappily drowned, with his Horſe, a few Yards from the Shore. And on Saturday his Body was found, and decently interred.

LONDON.

April 12. By the late mails from Liſbon, there are ſeveral advices in town, that the Court of Portugal ſtop all ſhips loaded with corn which call in there, notwithſtanding that market was ſo exceſſively glutted by a number of ſhips arriving in a ſhort ſpace of time; that the loſs muſt be immenſe to the Britiſh traders, who, by advices from the Spaniſh and Italian markets, have reaſon to expect the moſt inviting ſucceſs, if their ſhips were not ſtopt at Liſbon; for which the officers produce the King's decree, paſſed in 1757, never heard of before.

April 14. It is aſtoniſhing, that notwithſtanding the Cries of the poor, and repeated complaints of the dearneſs of proviſions, thoſe who have it in their power, do not exert that power to put a ſtop to the exportation of wheat, before it be too late. For theſe ſix months paſt, the exportation at the ports, inſtead of diminiſhing, has increaſed daily. At Lynn, in Norfolk, it is very common to ſee thirty, forty, or fifty waggon loads of wheat delivered in a morning; and this is not a tenth part of the grain that is brought there by water; which is exported with as much expedition as the wind, tide and ſhipping will admit of; and this being no inconſiderable port, they cannot be at a ſtand for the latter. Now, if the many other ports in the kingdom export as much wheat in proportion, and with as much expedition, as this does, it will, in a few weeks, be impoſſible to rectify this Grievance till the next Crop, and perhaps not then; ſo that, according to the old Proverb, when the ſteed is ſtolen, they will ſhut the door.

The Integrity, Brown, from Caſco Bay to London, foundered at ſea the 17th of March, in lat. 39 6, long. 54 43. The crew were taken up by the Caledonia, from Virginia to Glaſgow.

Letters from Copenhagen ſay, that the King of Denmark is going to augment his marine, for which purpoſe he has given orders for three ſhips of the line of battle, and ſome ſmall frigates, to be immediately built.

It is reported, that the Dutch agents have given large orders for guns, piſtols, ſwords, &c. for the uſe of their forces going to the Eaſt-Indies; all to be furniſhed with the utmoſt expedition.

A conſiderable quantity of plate, furniture, &c. the property of a late ſtickler for liberty, has, for theſe ſeveral preceding days, been ſelling at the Royal Exchange.

Large orders are gone to Cork and Dublin, for beef, pork, and butter, which it is hoped will, in ſome meaſure, reduce the exorbitant price of proviſions in this city, &c.

We hear a gentleman of diſtinction will ſet out this week for Holland, with intent, as it is ſaid, to ſound their Eaſt-India Company on the preſent poſture of affairs, and advance ſome propoſitions, the anſwer to which will not fail to prove the criterion of the deſigns and views of the Dutch in that part of the world.

It is ſaid that orders are iſſued for making a general and accurate ſurvey of the whole continent of America.

Extract of a letter from Aleppo, Jan. 17.

"We learn by private letters, that Kerim Kan being gone to Iſpahan Tauris, to be there crowned King of Perſia, has deſtroyed near half the city, in reſentment for the behaviour of the inhabitants; and likewiſe arreſted four princes or lords of the kingdom, who have been ſent priſoners to Iſpahan. The troops attached to thoſe lords ſent a deputation to him to demand the liberty of their chiefs, and, upon his refuſing to deliver them they mutinied, and took the route of Iſpahan, of which they have made themſelves maſters. It is thought it will be difficult for Kerim Kan to diſlodge them from that city, which they remained in poſſeſſion of when the laſt accounts came away."

Both true policy and humanity call on the friends of their country to contribute to the preſervation of lives which are of conſequence to its happineſs. The three following ſhort rules were communicated by that moſt benevolent of men, the late Dr. Stephen Hales. It is to be hoped that a proper regard will be paid to them by the regiments now preparing to embark for the Weſt-Indies, where their lives may be in more danger from the intemperate heat of the climate, than from any other enemy.

Firſt, Let all our ſoldiers who have a mind to preſerve health, live temperately; particularly, let them abſtain from all exceſs in rum, or other ſpirituous liquors. Whatever they drink of ſpirits muſt be a long time diſtilled, and reduced to an innocent ſherbet, by mixing in it five parts in ſix of water. This may be done by the care of their officers.

Secondly, Let them, as much as poſſible, avoid the heavy evening dews, or wetting their feet at night, which laſt generally produces fatal ſore throats; if, by accident, they wet their feet, the ſureſt remedy is, as quickly as they can after, to wet their whole body.

Thirdly, Let them, where they have opportunity, plunge every morning into the ſalt water. In the inland parts, where this opportunity is not at hand, let each ſoldier every morning throw into his baſon an ounce of ſalt; and after it is diſſolved in the water, dip into the baſon a coarſe towel, and wet his head, his limbs, and all his body over with this ſalt water, and immediately after put on his cloaths, without drying his ſkin. Bay ſalt is the beſt, if it may be had. This wonderfully ſtrengthens and braces all the muſcular fibres, and covers the ſkin with a kind of ſaltiſh cruſt, which prevents all feveriſh infections. This whole proceſs may be executed in three minutes, and effectually embalms and preſerves the body from danger that day.

This is not a meer theory, it is confirmed by experiments; and they who will obſerve theſe eaſy rules may live as ſafely, and enjoy as good health in the hotteſt climates, as we do in theſe temperate ones.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.

Extract of a Letter from Barbados, May 23, 1764.

"Mr. Harriſon, who, for his Advances towards the Diſcovery of the Longitude, has obtained an Order upon the Treaſury for Five Thouſand Pounds, is now at Barbados. His Time Piece, as he calls it, or Watch, has ſucceeded as well on his Voyage to this Iſland, as it did to Jamaica; nay, I believe, nearer, as he brought it within a Minute. He hit the Iſland of Porto Santo exactly. And from the Certificate that Sir John Lindſay (the Captain of the Ship he came in) gave him, as well as the Correſpondence of the Obſervations the two Gentlemen have made that were ſent out by the Commiſſioners for the Longitude, it is judged that he will certainly be intitled to the whole Premium upon his Return to England."

By a Letter from Fort Bedford, dated the 15th Inſtant, there is Advice, that a Party of ours had been out after the Enemy, whom they came in Sight of, and fired at, but could not come up with; and that as the Indians were flying from our People, a white Boy, they had Priſoner, fell from his Horſe, upon which they killed and ſcalped him, cut off his Head, and left it in the Road.

On Tuesday Night last the Captain of a New-England Schooner, lying at Chestnut-street Wharff, had his Chest opened, and a Bag carried off, containing Four Hundred and Fifty Dollars. And we hear there were sundry Things besides taken from the Vessel.

The Reverend Mr. WHITEFIELD is arrived at New-York from Boston, and, we hear, may be expected here in a few Days.
